1920

Foreword

IF THIS VOLUME of the 1920 Beaver serves to record the many things of interest and moment that have happened during the past year; if it furnishes a link to bind the classes in a spirit of companionship and good fellowship and helps us to remember friends made during our four years of toil; if it helps to instill into the New School the spirit and enthusiasum of the Old, then it will have accomplished its purpose and our efforts will not have been cast to the four winds.

CAMPUS

ADMINISTRATION BUILDING

Calm, serene, and proud, she stands;
Her fame diffused thru many lands;
Love and respect, she still commands;
We hail thee! Alma Mater.

Waldo Hall

'T was ever so since time began,
You see it where soe'er you roam,
The brain of man, the house may plan,
But woman's heart must build the home.

Men's Gymnasium

He who develops mind alone
And lets its home decay,
Soon finds he cannot hold his own,
In either work or play.

Mines Building

Deep into Nature's store house,
Lured by its golden glow,
To seek the hidden treasure,
A million miners go.

LADY OF THE FOUNTAIN

Where the perfumed dews are falling,
Hark! the pipes of Pan are calling.

Trysting Tree by Moonlight

Trysting Tree by Daylight

Full many a tender fancy then—
This old tree brings to mind,
For him, who wanders once again
In paths of Auld Lange Syne.

Mary's River Dam

A perfect day, a perfect place,
To rest awhile and dream,
To send, as children send their boats,
Our troubles down the stream.

Snow Scene

When Winter's fairies hover round
And pitch their snow tents on the ground.

Snow Scene. Mechanical Hall

Some like the blazonry of noon,
And some, the moonlight's glow;
  But the fairest scene
  Of all, I ween,
Is heaped with winter's snow.

Tulip Bed

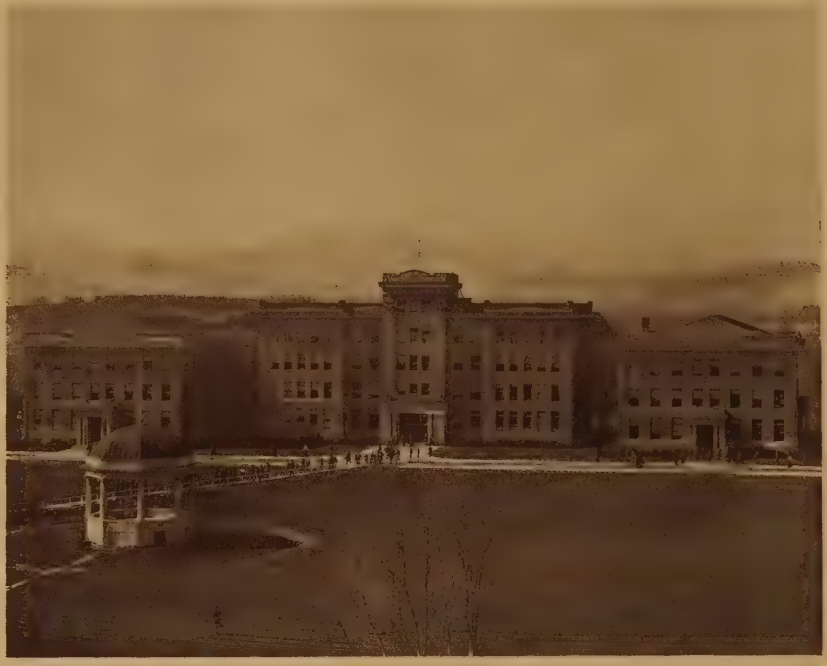
The tulip is the gypsy child
Of all the flower folk.
She stole the sunset's flaming dye
To make herself a cloak.

Library and Agricultural Group

When the sun's last rays are fading
Into twilight, soft and dim.

LIBRARY, LIGHTED

Soft showers bathe the close of day
The white jets on the fountain play,
Yonder, still the lamplight's glow
Streams on the printed page below.



Agricultural Hall

The man who raises food for men
Where once was fruitless sod,
Makes Eden's bower his home again,
And links his work with God.

Girls Under Big Fir

God gave us trees to be our friends,
To cheer us on our way,
The noble fir with branches wide,
The birch, demurely gay.

Mary's Peak

To dwell upon the mountain top,
Away from smaller things,
  Where skies are blue,
  And dreams are true,
And Heaven, earthward swings.

Senior Class History

THE TERMINATION of our college life is near at hand and with it comes a throng of memories that shall forever endear us to our Alma Mater. Listed on the pages of memory are the priceless gems of days gone by. It seems that the four short years are now but hollow echoes of the past, but with a retrospective view we can touch upon these yesterdays and claim them as the most precious in our life.

The Class of 1919 started in as "wearers of the green," four-hundred strong, anxious to learn the "whys" and "wherefores" of college life. Early in our Sophomore year the dark cloud of war hovered on the horizon of reality and we were borne on the great tide of the universal conflict for democracy. Our ranks were rapidly depleted as many left to don the khaki and the blue, and not without their story can be written the glories of those heroic achievements "Over There." We pause a moment in our daily routine to bow in humble praise to those stars that have changed from blue to gold. Their names shall be recorded in blazing glory for their supreme sacrifice was not made in vain.

Now that the dawn of peace has lightened up the land we turn once more to college activities and endeavor to recall the traditions and customs laid aside for the more arduous duties that confront us. The Class of 1919 closes the days of its college life with a sincere feeling that our efforts have not been made in vain, that we have materially added in a large measure to the richness of the history of Alma Mater, and that in the days to come we will give a good account of ourselves in our various pursuits.

Junior Class History

THE history of the present Junior Class is not an especially vivid one, probably not as much so as many others. Conditions during the term of our Junior year were bad. After the armistice was signed we reorganized, and elected new officers. Gradually things have returned somewhat to the old way with, we hope, a few things improved.

Eight hundred of us entered school in October, 1917. Now there are but two hundred and four left. A large majority of the absent ones have answered the call of the nation and are now drifting back, one by one, their hearts laden with fond memories of their rook days.

As Freshmen, we had the reputation of doing things. Although we lost our bag rush by one bag, we had the extreme pleasure of dragging the Sophomores through the millrace, the first time in the history of the College that such a thing has happened. If given a thing to do, we did it, and tried not to complain, for complaining only brought on us the usual punishment accorded to all unruly Rooks.

As Sophomores we were especially prominent in student activities. Our girls, also, were active in athletics, winning the interclass track meet, and furnishing the majority of members to each girl's team. This year was much the same as the preceding one, only we were working even harder. The incoming class had to be taught the proper respect for upperclassmen, and to uphold the traditions and history of the institution. The class Vigilance Committee tried several new and original things, endeavoring to instill in the minds of the Rooks that a square deal was of paramount interest to themselves and their college. In return they pulled our tug-of-war team through the millrace, but we beat them rather badly in the bag rush.

As Juniors we have had many new problems to solve, and many new situations and conditions to meet. We have emerged, however, with flying colors, and look forward with pleasure to a most successful senior year.

SOPHOMORE CLASS

Sophomore Class History

THE CLASS OF 1921 suffered in a manner similar to that of other classes, its ranks being sadly depleted. The opening of the college year in October found but 350 of its members returning to carry on the work that had been so abruptly ended when the bigger call to duty had been sounded. We launched into the activities awaiting us as sophomores and although handicapped by abnormal times, displayed the same spirit and prowess that had characterized us in the past. To those, who had left our midst to shoulder arms in the gigantic struggle and to those who paid the supreme sacrifice so that right might live, we humbly dedicate what small tribute of honor we have in our power in recognition of their service.

Our sophomore year will soon end. Already the horizon of a new reality comes into view, the transitional period from under to upperclassmen is at hand. It is with confidence that we meet the new issues knowing that the same culminating success that has characterized us in the past will be ours in the new sphere of college life. The class of 1921 holds the firm foundation of a well defined past as ample proof of a well met future.

Freshman Class History

NEVER BEFORE in the history of O. A. C. did the verdant hue, so emblematic of the freshman year, manifest itself as when nearly a thousand first year students assembled for the opening meeting of the class of 1922. Despite the demobilization of the S. A. T. C. the new year found an enrollment of more than 700 freshmen.

The first real get-together, afforded the class was the senior reception at which we were able to imbibe much of the spirit that constitutes a loyal Beaver. Another gala event was the Get Acquainted party held at the Men's Gymnasium in the early part of March where the True democratic ideal of "Know the Other Fellow" ruled the occasion.

The class of 1922 believes that it is braving the embryonic period of a college career with a manifestation that spells success. That when the metamorphosis of the first year is past we will substantiate our claim by filling the capacity of sophomores and put forth every effort to co-operate with those who have gone before.

Alma Mater

(By Homer Maris)

Within a vale of western mountains
There's a college we hold dear,
Her shady slopes and fountains
Oft to me appear;
I love to wander on the pathway
Down to the Trysting Tree.
For there again I see in fancy
Old friends dear to me.

Chorus:

Carry me back to O. A. C.
Back to her vine-clad halls;
Thus fondly ever in my mem'ry
Alma Mater calls.

It is a noble land-grant college,
By the noble Lincoln planned.
Her sons' and daughters' knowledge
Tills and guards the land.
So honored be her name forever,
Sing praise of O. A. C.
Ah, naught in all the world can sever
Friends once true to thee.

1921 VIGILANCE COMMITTEE

Annual Clara H. Waldo Prizes

THE CLARA H. WALDO prizes awarded annually to a woman student from each class, are gifts of $40 for the senior, $30 for the junior, $20 for the sophomore and $10 for the freshman girls who are chosen. In making awards, the committee in charge considers the recommendations in leadership and scholastic attainment of women students as made by a committee of deans. In addition to this grading, degree students vote on the following standards in such girls as they may desire to: success in student activities and qualities of womanhood including character, reputation, health and personality.

Initiation of Vigilance Committee—1921

Initiation of Vigilance Committee—1921

Happenings of tha Day

OCTOBER, 1918

First—Men pledge loyalty to nation. Registration starts with much speed, the campus assumes a military aspect.

Fifth—Football aspirants out under the direction of Coach Bill. Officers bat at Chi O house, privates going strong elsewhere. Social regulations published.

Seventh—An affliction known as a ban on social gatherings is now upon us.

Twelfth—Opening football game. We defeat Vancouver Barracks, 7-0.

Thirteenth—Fussers prefer hostess house to library.

Eighteenth—S. A. T. C. learns to sing. Some job, Dr. Poling?

Nineteenth—Sororities grab 76—to keep home fires burning. Theta pledges don't have far to move.

Twenty-third—Nothing to do but spray.

Twenty-seventh—Women become adept with fraternity house upper bunks.

Thirtieth—Two prominent seniors make solemn agreement. Watch for developments.

NOVEMBER, 1918

Fourth—Faculty men do manual labor. Several tons of books moved a la wheelbarrow. Ban still on. Afternoon walks featured.

Fifth—Coeds cause business men to part with two bits in return for a tag. Sororities hold midnight frolics to break the ban monotony.

Nineth—Aggies too much for shipbuilders, score 14-0.

Eleventh—Greatest day in history. Celebration in armory, parade, dance, in new barracks. House dances at night. Ban lifted.

Thirteenth—The official carpet, tacks and padding now located in library, third floor back.

Sixteenth—A good game but a bad finish. Dean Fawcett attends a Women's Club dance.

Nineteenth—Boys engineer for passes off campus. Twenty-six of fifty-five candidates dramatic enough to make the Actors' club.

Twenty-third—Officers' ball. Chi Omegas and Pi Phis inside, Thetas and Alpha Chis outside. Who wins?

Twenty-fifth—Absence is making the marks grow rounder.

Twenty-seventh—Faculty objects to our songs. First convocation of the year. President Kerr announces that S. A. T. C. will be demobilized. K. P's rejoice loudly.

DECEMBER, 1918

Third—Gobs in uniform. Appear to be comfortable but Heinie says a shoe horn is highly desirable.

INAUGURATION OF S.A.T.C.

OCTOBER FIRST

Happenings of the Day—Continued

Fourth—Our first Lyceum number. Almost too much speed for Corvallis.
Seventh—Delta Delta Delta established on campus.
Tenth—All the boys contest for front row seats at "Have a Heart."
Eleventh—Cadet lieutenants appointed. Review of S. A. T. C. Colonel Sharpe bids farewell to men in local unit.
Twelfth—Today is payday.
Sixteenth—Co. A and B released. Boys all bid good-bye to Grace.
Twenty-first—Vacation and two weeks' rest at last.

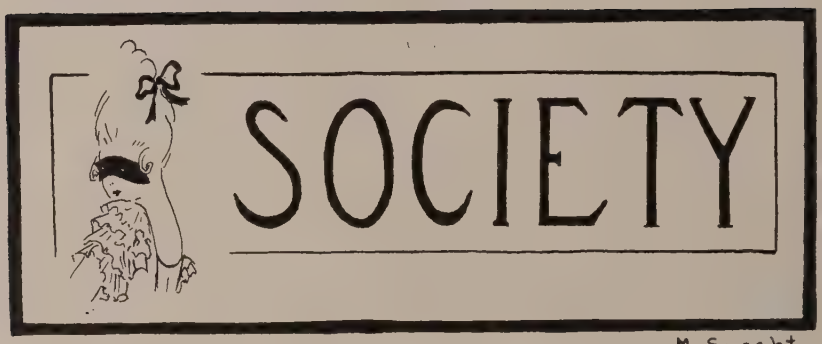
JANUARY, 1919

Sixth—Registration in Library proceeds quietly. Many old students back. House bills start again.
Eighth—Freshman Bible appears. George Powell explains the verdant book. Green ribbons are to be worn on service hats.
Thirteenth—Fraternity men report much damage done to their houses.
Fourteenth—Shepard Hall now a hospital.
Fifteenth—Sigma Nu's success at the '49 show denotes much practice. The lid goes on again.
Twenty-first—McComb prints first scoop, exposing the Mysterious Ball. First Chapter of Lamentations appears.
Twenty-second—Sophomores decide to brigten campus by class sweaters. Third senior president chosen—strenuous position.
Twenty-fifth—Juniors stage a "hike."
Twenty-ninth—Girls' Indoor Track Meet. Too bad the whole student body couldn't attend. Seniors win.
Thirtieth—Society program published. Many plans laid to harvest bids to certain dances.

FEBRUARY, 1919

First—Sigma Chi's have hike. Also sophs.
Fourth—Three term system adopted. Diet of fraternities investigated.
Seventh—Gym is crowded at senior reception. Dancing attempted. New Y hut opened. Inter-sorority basketball league opens season. You never can tell how some things will end.
Eighth—Saturday and School. Legislature entertained. Rain.
Eleventh—Bigger and better college. Appropriations pass legislature.
Twelfth—O. A. C. wins two basketball games from Washington U.
Fifteenth—Beavers lose to U. of O.
Eighteenth—McComb scoops again. Great T. N. E. revelation. Second chapter of Lamentations.
Twenty-second—Many and varied are the opinions of no-program Student Assembly dances.

S. A. T. C. Review



DUE TO WAR conditions and the influenza epidemic at the beginning of the school year, there were practically no social activities until second quarter. A student informal, the first of the year, was held on Armistice Day in the new barracks, which were almost completed. As soon as health conditions would permit, the senior reception to freshmen was held and was one of the successful all-O. A. C. gatherings of the season. The new Y hut was officially opened the same night. A series of student body dances have been held on Saturday nights and they have been more successful than ever before. Juniors and seniors enjoyed an informal dance at the women's gymnasium.

FRESHMAN DANCE

The freshman class turned out en masse for the first 1922 dance, held Friday evening, March 7 in the Men's Gymnasium. Partners for the first dance were chosen by lot, following which the grand march was played. The hall was attractively decorated in the official colors, blue and gold, palms and gay paper streamers. Punch was served. The patrons and patronesses were Dean and Mrs. Covell and Professor and Mrs. E. B. Beaty.

Interfraternity Smoker

ONE OF THE annual events of local importance is the inter-fraternity smoker. Its purpose is manifold. It serves as a mean of "getting acquainted," enabling the members of the Greek world to know one another and promote a better spirit of democracy. "Greek unity" is the most essential feature for the promotion of those higher ideals for which fraternities stand and the smoker is one of the paramount issues in bringing this about.

Occurring as it does at the beginning of the college year it lends an impetus throughout the year. It brings about by actual contact a knowledge of what the other fellow is doing. There is but little of a beneficial nature to be accomplished unless the individual co-operation of all is given and the smoker serves as a means to this end. The view-point of all is given and many good ideas and thoughts are expressed that would otherwise be left unknown. On the whole, the inter-fraternity smoker plays a most important part in the year's issues.

The First "Greater O. A. C." Assembly

THE FIRST "GREATER O. A. C." movement was started in connection with the Junior Week-end, 1919. The entire student body was divided into committees representing every county in Oregon, states of Washington, California, Idaho, and other states throughout the country.

It is for the purpose of creating a greater knowledge throughout the state and country of the excellent courses, and superior instruction of the school and to bring about a more widespread interest in the college.

The first annual "Greater O. A. C." dance was held in honor of the entire campaign and everyone entered into the occasion with the old Beaver spirit and with the one idea of doing their best toward bringing about a bigger and better O. A. C.

FIVE THOUSAND enthusiastic fans packed the bleachers for the annual clash for the gridiron supremacy between the Orange and Black and the Lemon and Green. The contest marked the big feature of the Homecoming Week-end, November 16, 17 and 18. The University of Oregon brought over about five hundred rooters and a persistent forty-five piece band. Our bleachers crowded with khaki clad S. A. T. C. men and co-eds wearing the O. A. C. chrysanthemums made the skies ring with yells and songs. The cadet band furnished its share of the demonstration.

The game was called at 3:05 by Sam Dolan. O. A. C. rushed the opposing team off its feet at the opening of the game and scored a touchdown in the first quarter. Oregon finally started in the third quarter. The game was one of the hardest fought and cleanest of the season. The only thing that marred an otherwise perfect day was that the University managed to carry along the long end of the score, taking 13 points to our 6.

Varsity Debate

This year at Oregon Agricultural College has seen a very big advance in Forensics. Although handicapped by inability to start the first of the year in debating, a great deal of interest has been shown in the short time the work has been going on. The Sophomore-Freshman debate try-out had the largest turnout of any inter-class try-out for several years. The debate itself was well attended and very successful in every respect. Added interest was aroused by inter-fraternity debating and when the try-out for the Varsity team was called a large number of contestants sought places on the team.

The big debate of the year is with the University of Washington. This is the first time Oregon Agricultural College has entered the field against Washington and great interest is being shown. The University of Washington has made a fine reputation for herself and the contest promises to be very good. The members of the Varsity team are Roy Aldrich, A. B. Black, Ivan Stuart and Paul Emmett.

The question is; "Resolved that the government should own and operate the railway systems (exclusive of municipal railways) of continental United States.

It is hoped that Forensic relations with Washington may be maintained and we may look to her as a probable rival in the future.

It is desired that interest in the debate on the campus may be increased each year. There are many who do not realize the material benefits derived from debating experience and comparatively few seek participation in it compared with some other activities. This, however, is being rapidly overcome and debating is taking its place as a popular intercollegiate and inter-mural activity. From all indication, next year's program will be broader than ever and will give O. A. C. a greater chance to demonstrate her ability to produce winning teams of clear-thinking, forceful public speakers.

WILLIAM P. BLACK

Varsity Orator at Eugene, April 11, 1919. Subject: "The Challenge of an Inexorable Law"

Oratory

While because of the conditions attending the S. A. T. C. an early start in our work in Oratory was impossible, and little work was done until after the Christmas holidays, the final results are not unlikely to prove most gratifying. The choice for College Orator finally narrowed down to one of two men: Harold Readen and William P. Black. The latter was the unanimous choice of the judges and he will prove a formidable champion for O. A. C. Since his selection, he has worked hard and faithfully under the direction of the coach, Professor Peterson, and has produced an oration which many consider of the very highest order.

Preparations are being made for the annual interclass oratorical contest. This it is expected will be one of the best contests of its kind held here. The contestants for honors in the two upper classes are not numerous but the lack of them there is more than made up for in the abundance of material in the two lower classes.

It is very gratifying to note the interest that students are taking in forensics. It is an indication that the members of the student body are more fully to realize the great and lasting benefits that are to be derived from participation in Oratory as well as in other forms of public speaking.

Inter-Fraternity Debating

THE FRATERNITIES of O. A. C. have clashed in debate for the first time. The Inter-fraternity Debating League is the result of the consistent efforts of Professor S. H. Peterson, coach of forensics who for several years has had a plan of intramural forensics but this is the first year sufficient interest has been displayed to warrant launching the proposition.
Enthusiasm for forensics has reached a high pitch this year, due to the fact that men who have returned from the military service now realize the practical benefit to be derived from forensic training.

Sixteen organizations took part in the preliminaries held on March 12th. The debates were well attended and pronounced a complete success. The teams representing Theta Chi, Lambda Chi Alpha, Kappa Sigma, Sigma Alpha Epsilon, Kappa Theta Rho, Sigma Phi Epsilon, Aztec, and Cambridge Club won in the preliminaries and will decide the championship during the spring quarter.

The object of inter-fraternity debating is to give a greater number of students opportunity for forensic experience and to stimulate interest in debating that will insure a high standard of varsity teams. That these results are being accomplished is indicated by the number who participated in the fraternities contests and by the keen competition displayed at the varsity tryout.

The victorious team will be given a handsome cup and a cash prize. The cup will be donated by William Konick, a Corvallis jeweler who is interested in forensics, and the cash prize will be given by the faculty advisors of the fraternities.

Inter-Sorority Debating

Inter-organization debating among the women is the latest addition to the scope of forensics at O. A. C. The Women's League, composed of all the sororities and Waldo and Cauthorn Halls, has been created by Professor Peterson and Dean Fawcett to give the girls the advantage of the valuable training afforded by debating. The team which comes out first in the series will receive a loving cup which will be presented by Dean Fawcett.

The question for discussion in the women's league will be, "Resolved: That Article XVI, Section 2 of the proposed constitution for the League of Nations, should be amended before it is ratified by the Peace Conference so as to read: 'It shall be the duty of the executive council to provide for international army for the enforcement of the covenant of the constitution' (constitutionality granted)." At the close of the series the champion women's team will meet the champion inter-fraternity team to decide the final honors.

It is thought that if the women show sufficient interest in debating that sometime in the near future a women's varsity team for inter-collegiate debating may be formed.

The Mask and Dagger Club has developed, since its founding seven years ago, into one of the leading organizations among the student body of the institution. Much of the success of the club may be credited to Mrs. Grace-Rosaaen Siefert who, as coach of the organization, has developed a high degree of dramatic ability among the members.

Due to the presence of the S. A. T. C. on the campus this fall the club was unable to carry out its usual activities. However, when the S. A. T. C. was demobilized, Mask and Dagger again came into prominence, resuming its activity with a production of "Nothing but the Truth," by James A. Montgomery, an exceedingly clever three-act comedy. The cast, a number of which made their initial appearance before the theater-going folk of Corvallis, proved to be exceptional talent, the play being rendered with marked success.

The purpose of the club is to develop in the members an artistic sense of dramatic interpretation and ability and to present for the favor of the institution and towns-people the best that has been produced in dramatic art. Mask and Dagger has thus far succeeded in accomplishing that aim.

MUSIC

Resume of Season

QUITE naturally the conditions under which the college worked during the first quarter made it impossible to carry on the regular schedule of the Madrigal and Glee Clubs. The Glee Club did not organize until the second quarter; they elected new officers to fill the vacancies caused by men who did not return on account of the war. The Madrigal Club practiced as much as the "flu" would permit during the first quarter, making one public appearance. The annual concert during the second quarter was postponed almost on the eve of its presentation by the serious illness of the director, Mrs. Gaskins.

It has been customary every two years for the Madrigal and Glee Clubs to give a joint opera. This year it is a romantic comic opera, "The Lass of Limerick Town," written by Arthur A. Penn, and is as Irish as the name indicates. The plot of the opera is clever, with witty dialogues and music which is simply irresistible. The leads are well taken and ably assisted by a large chorus. The whole opera is under the direction of Professor Gaskins and promises to be the most successful production ever staged in Corvallis.

Agricultural Club

THE AGRICULTURAL CLUB is an organization composed of all students who are taking agriculture; its object being to promote co-operation and good fellowship among agricultural students, and to stimulate interest in agriculture work.

The club was organized fourteen years ago and since that time it has rapidly increased in size. It is now one of the largest and most progressive organizations on the campus. Although greatly affected by war conditions this year, the club has been a very successful and enjoyable one for the members have taken a greater interest in the work than in previous years.

The Agricultural Fair, which is the club's big annual event, was not held this year due to the war conditions.

The Agricultural Club in co-operation with the Home Economics Club published a monthly magazine, "The Oregon Countryman." In previous years this magazine has been published only during the school year. Beginning this year, however, "The Oregon Countryman" will be published during the entire summer, as well as during the school months, which will make it one of the leading agricultural publications of its kind in the United States.

The Withycombe Club is an organization of the students and faculty of the Animal Husbandry Department.

The Horsemanship class of fifty men under Prof. Potter, during the first quarter was given over especially to preparing men for the Artillery Officers' Training Camp, who were in the local S. A. T. C. unit.

Because of the small number registered, Senior Stock Judging was opened to Seniors and Juniors in both Animal Husbandry and Dairy Husbandry. Many helpful and important trips were taken during the past year. The following men were chosen for the Stock Judging Team: R. E. Irving, F. D. Entermille, J. R. The Soils Improvement Club is a new organization on the campus. It was organized for the purpose of bringing the soils student and the faculty together. The aim of the Club is to broaden this particular field and to bring capable outside speakers on this subject to the college. Many communities interested in soil improvement work are assisted materially by this organization.

The Civil Engineering Society is a student organization, the membership of which is composed of all students registered in Civil Engineering.

The Society holds its meetings on the first and third Thursday of the month, at which time current problems of interest of the Civil Engineering profession are discussed. The professors of the department turn out in force to these meetings and in this way get in personal touch with the students outside the class room. Men of note in the profession are also often guests and give the members many valuable, practical hints in their talks. In addition to the above, the Society takes an active interest in student affairs and athletics and its own teams are in friendly rivalry with the societies of the other departments of the institution.

The American Institute of Electrical Engineers, founded in the year 1884, is a national organization for promoting interest and co-operation among the members of the electrical profession. The aim is to band together men of high professional standing who study, experiment, and work to solve the problems involved in the uses to which electrical energy is put in modern industrial and commercial enterprises.

The local branch of the A. I. E. E. was installed at O. A. C. in 1908. Membership being open to all students registering in the regular electrical course upon the payment of a small annual fee.

Besides regular business meetings, the program committee arranges for features of interest, such as talks by prominent professional men, discussions given by the members, debates and social functions.

The American Institute of Mining Engineers recently recognized the Oregon School of Mines as one of the reputable mining schools of the country by establishing here a Junior branch of the A. I. M. E. Membership is limited to the Senior and Junior classes of the Miners Club and at present there are seven seniors and six juniors in the organization.

The Miners Club is an association of all the students registered in the School of Mines. The purpose of the Club is to keep the members in touch with the practical side of the profession, through talks by the members and occasional lectures by men not connected with the college. Each member at some time during the year takes active part in the program furnished at the meetings.

The Club was organized in 1905 under the leadership of Professor Fulton and from the beginning has always been alert in social and technical activities. Each year since the spring of 1907 the Club has made a trip to some mining district to study mine surveying, mining geology, and mining methods. It has held many smokers and athletic contests and in a general way has advanced the good fellowship that exists in the School of Mines.

Pharmaceutical Association

THE PHARMACEUTICAL ASSOCIATION is an organization made up of the students of the School of Pharmacy and those interested in that profession. Since its organization in 1906, membership has steadily grown and it has taken such an active part in advancing the interests of the School of Pharmacy that its membership constitutes a valuable part of the student's training.

The purpose of the organization is largely educational. To this end lecturers are secured to acquaint the members with the progress and activities of the profession and to give them some ideas on the practice of Pharmacy, which are not dealt with in the class room.

Aside from a purely business and educational work, the Association gives numerous social affairs for the purpose of getting the members better acquainted with each other and securing more co-operation and good fellowship between the various classes in the school of Pharmacy.

The Forestry Club, although handicapped seriously by war conditions, was able to hold weekly meetings as it did before. Professional papers were presented and discussed. Alternate meetings were given over to social gatherings and were a great aid in bringing the different classes of the School of Forestry together.

O. A. C. and the Forestry Club may well be proud of the military record of its members. Our service roll contains the names of eighty-six men, three of whom died under the Nation's banner. Also out of these eighty-six men, one has the commission of a major; four are captains; eight, first lieutenants and eighteen, second lieutenants. The Forestry Club maintains that this record surpasses that of any other Forestry Club in the United States.

We look forward with pleasure to the return of these who have answered their country's call and to entrance of new men. We expect big things for the Club next year.

The Chemical Engineering Society is an organization composed of the students registered in the department of Chemical Engineering and the faculty of that department. Although this Society has only recently been organized, the members have shown great interest in its growth and success, and have measurably promoted the social and academic interest in Chemical Engineering by the presentation of papers and experimental demonstrations on current topics of interest. Social gatherings are held to develop a spirit of friendship and co-operation between the students and faculty of the department.

Future plans of the Society include instructive talks by men of practical industrial experience.

Bi-monthly meetings are held at which time a program is given by a student chairman. One of the principal activities of the Club is the publication of the Commercial Print Journal, a magazine devoted to the many commercial interests of the School of Commerce.

Members of the Commercial Club in service, number over a hundred and fifty, and of these nearly fifty per cent have received commissions. The Club feels justly proud of this enviable record.

Home Economics Club

THE Home Economics Club is organized for the purposes of promoting a closer social relationship among its members, considering problems pertaining to Home Economics, and creating higher realizations of the world's needs. Every woman registered in the School of Home Economics is considered a member of the Economics Club. It is the aim of the monthly meetings of the Club to provide as speakers, specialists in home economics or in fields closely related to it. In this way, a broader survey of the problems of the home economics world may be obtained than could be hoped for in class work or laboratory where particular principles and their applications are being worked out.

During the past year, war work naturally was a vital factor in directing the Club's activities. Its greatest undertaking was the making of the College Service Flags. The first flag contains 1056 stars and the second, 254. The work was carried out under the direction of the Department of Household Art. The Club also staged the Fashion Show in the spring. The undertaking proved to be so popular and successful that it may now be considered one of the permanent activities of the organization. At the close of the college year, seventy-two substantial luncheons were made up for the O. A. C. men going to the Presidio.

As a result of the Fashion Show and the dues collected, the Club was able to support a French War Orphan in addition to making substantial contributions to Red Cross and the Armenian Relief Fund.

The Associated Society of Mechanical Engineers was founded with the idea of drawing closer the men engaged in that profession. They early recognized the advantage of getting the college men interested in the Society and soon established student branches of the organization.

The active student members in the local branch consist of the upperclassmen in Mechanical Engineering. Upon graduation these student members are taken into the National organization as junior members and, finally, as members depending on their progress in the profession.

Several years ago this college obtained a student branch and has maintained it through the recent war despite the reduction of membership due to the enlistments of a great number of its members.

Shakopean Society

THE SHAKOPEAN LITERARY SOCIETY is the only organization on the campus which has for its aim the encouragement of public speaking. Debate try-outs, oratorical contests and discussions on live current topics are the main features of the meetings.

In former years a dozen literary societies have been in existence but with the growth of fraternities they have gradually been displaced. In March, 1918, the Shakopean Society was organized with a charter membership of forty-nine. It is co-educational while previous literary organizations have been either exclusively for men or women.

The name of the organization is of Indian origin and not Shakesperian as many, no doubt, have thought. "Shakopee," the original name, was an Indian chief who won fame in the early days among his tribesmen by his unusual eloquence and fluency of speech. The University of Minnesota was the first school to use Shakopee's name for a literary society, and it was from there that O. A. C.'s Shakopean Society received its name.

Young Men's Christian Association

Dr. D. V. Poling

NOT UNTIL the college had started in on its intensive training course in the fall did the need for the National Y. M. C. A. secretary make itself felt. Dr. D. V. Poling, at this time building secretary in Hut No. 2 at Vancouver, was the first man called to take up the "Y" work on the campus. That his choice was a happy one was evidenced by the reception which has been accorded him.

The "Y" has carried out a very complete and practical program of religious services, social functions, and song fests. The remarkable favor and success with which this musical work has met shows in a measure, the practical nature of the services of the Y. M. C. A. here on the campus.

The present quarters of the Association was completed and opened by an informal reception and house-warming on the seventh of February. Ever since it has been occupied by the men students as a lounging place, and its committee rooms, conference rooms and auditorium have been filled almost every evening.

An obligation to the women students of the college has not been overlooked by the Y. M. C. A. One day and one evening each week have been set aside for the exclusive use of the building by the women.

Owing to the fact that the present program of the Association is under the control of the National War Council of the Young Men's Christian Associations of the United States, and will be so until the close of the present school year, no attempt has been made to revive the old organization which has been at work on the campus in former years. However, this will undoubtedly be done before school adjourns for the summer vacation, so that the Student Body may be assured of a live and active Y. M. C. A. at the beginning of the school year next fall.

The Young Women's Christian Association has probably more influence upon the lives of the young women than has any other single organization in the world.

The work of our association during the past year has been most satisfactory in spite of the many difficulties arising from time to time. The interest and enthusiasm shown by those who attended the meetings is evidence that much benefit is being gained. During the past year over four hundred girls have participated and enjoyed the privileges of the association.

The officers of the organization deserve particular mention since the success of the year has depended largely upon their efforts and enthusiasm with the assistance of the Advisory Board and the rest of the cabinet members.

Every girl registered in the Oregon Agricultural College is a member of the Women's League. The League was organized in the fall of 1916 in order to further the general interests of the co-ed student body. Girls, as a rule, are slow to express themselves in student body meetings and it is thought and proved to be best for them to have a women's meeting. All the girls of the campus get together once each month and take their stand on various questions. In fact, they make the general regulations governing women students and maintain their traditions; always of course, with the approval of the Dean of Women, who is the League's most staunch supporter.

On account of unnatural circumstances, little has thus far been accomplished during the passed year, but there is every indication of a bright future for the Women's League and a better O. A. C. in the next year.

The O. A. C. Cosmopolitan Club was first organized upon the campus in 1911. Since then it has grown rapidly until now it is one of the strong and influential organizations on the campus.

This organization not only produces a splendid spirit of democracy on the campus but has a far reaching influence among the peoples of foreign lands.

The Vigilance Committee

THE FRESHMAN QUESTION this year has been very unusual. Owing to the military discipline prevailing under the S. A. T. C. the college traditions were not followed as in former years. After the demobilization of the Student Army Training Corps it was realized that certain steps were necessary to bring back these old customs and create a new "Beaver Spirit." Because of the epidemic of Spanish influenza the usual routine of punishment could not be followed. However, the Freshmen, in spite of having lost three months of college life have shown a fine spirit of willingness and helpfulness toward the institution and its customs.

The Vigilance Committee is composed of thirty Sophomores, who are picked from the class because of their prominence in class activities. The committee is governed by a constitution approved by the Student Council. It is at all times responsible to this body for its actions. Regular and special meetings are held to discuss the problems as they present themselves.

It is the purpose of the committee not to seek trouble but to prevent it. The committee desires to do all in its power to instill in the Freshman the spirit which is to follow them through their years of college life and which may be of the greatest benefit to the institution.

Coach and Professor of Athletics

THIS IS Coach Hargiss' first year here and the fact that he did not know the men or what they were capable of doing was a great drawback, but he went to work with a spirit that proved him to be the man for the job. Mr. Hargiss' record as a coach is a good one. After graduating from the Kansas State Normal, he attended Kansas University one year, and the College of Emporia the following year. From there he went to Harvard, where he took a year's special training in physical education.

In 1909 he started coaching, his first position being at Marion High School, Kansas. From 1910 to 1912 he was coach and athletic director at the College of Emporia, Kansas. In 1913 he was assistant coach and gymnasium director at Kansas University, and the following year he accepted a position as coach and athletic director at the State Teachers' College, of Kansas, where he stayed until the spring of 1918.

FOOTBALL

Varsity Football Squad

Review of the Season

WHEN COACH HARGISS looked over the squad that reported for the first practice he might well have been disappointed. However, he went to work with a spirit that would bring credit to any coach. War conditions had taken practically all of the men, leaving Archibald as the only letter-man, Beatie and Loosely as former second string men, with Powell, Reynolds, Foster and Kirchenschlager of last year's Freshman team. The first game of the season was played October 12, with the Vancouver Barracks, with O. A. C. winning to a score of 7-0. The game was one for practice and showed the team coming along fine with Archibald and Powell doing wonders. Following this game was a period of two weeks with no games because of the "flu." The Stanifer bunch gathered together and came up to do the part of the cleaners but the team had the old O. A. C. fight and left the score 14-0 in O. A. C.'s favor.

There was another period of two weeks before the game with Camp Lewis, played at American Lake on November 4. During these two weeks, "flu" and "shots in the arm" had played their parts with the team, and along with the lack of games left the team in poor condition and slightly down in spirits because of the several disappointments from the canceling of games. From the dope, the Beavers should never have scored but someone kicked it over and the final score was 6-20 in favor of Camp Lewis.

The Oregon Game

Review of the Season—Continued

On November 11 the U. of O. eleven came over to try their luck with the Orange and Black. In the first half the Beavers showed a superiority of fifty per cent over the Lemon-Yellow, making a touchdown in the first quarter. In the second half the Aggies came back minus some of the old scrap and the Lemon-Yellow tore through for thirteen points, leaving the score 6-13.

The game of November 18, played in Seattle with U. of W., was an even and clean fought game. The Beavers showed the old fight every minute of play. Twice they had the ball within one yard of the goal line but on the fourth down were unable to score, finally losing to the score of 0-6.

On November 23, the Beavers met M. A. A. C. on the Multnomah Field with the odds heavily against them. Again the dope was spilled and Multnomah was able to score their one touchdown only on a fluke play.

In every game of the season the Aggies were victorious in the first half of the game but lost their scrap before the finish. Too much credit cannot be given Archibald and Powell for when yardage was needed the ball went to one of them and he carried it over.

RAYMOND ARCHIBALD.—"Peany" was the only Varsity "O" man back on the squad. He was unanimously chosen for the captaincy and has certainly shown himself capable of handling the job. Played right half. Is a senior in engineering, and will not be with us next year.

GEORGE POWELL.—"Gap" is a sophomore in commerce, and a top notch football man. Played fullback, and was chosen fullback on the All-Pacific Coast Team.

ROBERT STEWART.—"Bob" played regularly at center, and he expects to be back and fight for the same position next year.

DELBERT KIRCHENSCHLAGER.—"Kirk" alternated with Tucker at right end. He will be with us next year, and great things are expected of him.

JOY BADLEY.—"Bad" played a fine game at quarter, and should show up well next year.

EMIL CHRISTENSEN.—"Christy" spent his freshman year at W. S. C., but learned better and came to O. A. C. He has the honor of playing every minute of every game, and will be a strong candidate for right tackle during the coming season.

ALBERT HOLDER.—"Duke" played an excellent game at left half in fact he was chosen for this position on the All-Pacific Coast Team.

JULIAN ASH.—"Judy" played a strong game at left guard from the beginning of the season, but his injury in the Camp Lewis game prevented him from staring in that position.

ROBERT TUCKER.—"Tuck" played right end in the majority of the games and fine work is expected of him next year.

LLOYD KNAPP.—"Nap" was a splendid utility man, being able to play center, guard, or tackle. In most of the games, however, he played guard, and proved to be a very efficient man for that position.

ROBERT VAN HOESEN.—"Van" played a very consistent game at left end, throughout the season. He will be back next year and will put up a good scrap for the same position.

EDWIN WRIGHT.—"Pinky" played a fine game at full and halfback. We hope he will be back again.

GEORGE SCHWIND.—"George" played at left tackle and proved himself a fast, strong, and heady player. He was at the bottom of every mixup.

"Hink" "Chazz" "Rick"

Merle Loosley—"Loose" held down the position of right guard, where he played a hard game. He is a junior in agriculture, and will be with us next year.

Joe Reynolds—"Skeet" played at left end until he entered the Aviation Service. Played a very consistent game, and deserves a lot of credit. He will be with us next year.

Ernest Wolf—"Wolf" developed into one of the best linesmen on the team. In the last three games he starred at left tackle, and will be a strong candidate for that position next year.

Nathan Lipman—"Lip" played a consistent game at guard. He probably will not be back next year.

Sam Strohecker—"Sam" was out for center, but was not eligible for Varsity because of not belonging to the S. A. T. C.

Edwin Thompson—"Tommie" is one of the fastest men on the squad and a splendid back field man. Will not be with us next year.

William Foster—"Bill" was a member of the last year's Freshman team and played at left half and full back on this year's Varsity. A very good man, and a hard one to down.

John Foster—"Jack" played at right end, and is expected to develop into one of the best ends we have had.

Basketball Review

WITH ONLY one letter man back things looked rather poor for a winning team, but Coach Hargiss gathered together all the Varsity candidates and started building up a strong defensive aggregation. Shortly after the season opened the only veteran on the squad was compelled to drop out, owing to too much school work, and lack of time, leaving only inexperienced men from which to pick the team. The season opened with W. S. C. here, winning two games by a one-sided score. About this time "Butts" Reardon, one of last year's stars, returned from the army. The following week Coach Hargiss, with his basket men left for a two-week's trip, taking in Idaho, Whitman, Walla Walla Y. M. C. A., and the two final games with W. S. C. Partly owing to sickness encountered on this trip the majority of the games were lost. Two days after the team arrived home, Oregon came here for the first half of the series. Two members of the local team were nursing injuries, and the fact that the men had not had much of a rest accounts for the loss of both games. One week later the team journeyed north to meet U. of W. in two return games. Both games were lost by a few points, the last game being won by Washington in the last few seconds of play. The season closed with the two final games at Eugene, both of which were hard fought battles, but ended in favor of the Lemon-Yellow men.

HENRY REARDON, Captain and Captain-elect, Guard—"Butts" returned from the army two weeks after the season had opened, but soon got into shape and was a valuable addition to tne team.

MARION MCCART, Forward—"Babe" played a stellar game at forward. He was an accurate passer and a sure bet for his share of the baskets. His big arms blocked everything that came his way.

ALBERT EIKLEMAN, Center—"Eik" always got the tap-off from his man, and was like a stonewall on defense. He was the only man on the team who played every minute of play the entire season.

ERNEST ARTHURS, Forward—"Erney" was the fastest man on the team, and while playing the "bacon getter" position he proved himself a wonder when it came to passing and shooting baskets

Track Review

THE TRACK SEASON for 1918 was very successful. The College captured both the Military Tournament and the Oregon meet at Corvallis. At the Military Tournament, at the Ice Hippodrome in Portland, Coleman, of O. A. C., took first in the half mile, Carter first and "Butts" Reardon second in the 220, Radcliff first and Eikleman second in the high hurdles, Spriggs first and Coleman second in the mile, Mattox first in the 100-yard dash, and Scea second in the 440. The relay was also won for O. A. C.

The Oregon vs. O. A. C. Meet at Corvallis took place on the fourth of May, and as already indicated was a victory for the Orange and Black. The final score stood 86 to 42 in favor of the local track team. At no time was the outcome of the meet uncertain, but the speed artists of the College started in at the very first to pile up the very decisive score given.

Prospects are bright for the future, and we look forward with confidence to the coming meets of 1919.

CAPTAIN COLEMAN.—440, half, and mile. Could always be counted on for three first places. He is a four year letter man, this being his last year. His place will be very hard to fill.

ALBERT EIKLEMAN.—Shot, highjump, high hurdles, and discus. "Eik" may be figured for at least two firsts and a couple of seconds. He is one of the main pillars of our track team, and during the next two years of his stay here we are expecting to see him establish new records.

FORREST MATTOX—Sprints. Mattox took care of the 100 and 220, and was a sure bet. He will not be back next year, his absence will be keenly felt.

EIKLEMAN

JAMES SPRIGGS.—2 mile. Spriggs was our long distance man, and was a bad one to go against. This was his first year on the Varsity.

PAUL SCEA.—440. Paul is a credit to any track team. This was his first year on the Varsity.

LLOYD CARTER.—Sprints. Carter is a valuable assest to the team in the sprints, and a good point getter. Shows the makings of a real track artist.

CLYDE HORNER.—Pole vault. Horner could pole vault with the best in the country. This is his last year here.

CHARLEY PATTON. — Highjump. A valuable man who could be counted on for some of the bacon. He graduates this spring.

RADCLIFF EIKLEMAN

EDWARD RADCLIFF. —High hurdles. "Ichabod" has a splendid build for a high hurdler, and proved himself a good one this season.

ARTHUR McCLAIN.— Javelin. "Mac" stepped out and showed them all how to throw the javelin. He is an all round field event man, and will be missed next year.

FRANK ROSS.—Broadjump. "Tuffy" was a good man, and although he did not earn his letter he came so near it that he made his opponent worry a lot.

Baseball Review

THE 1918 season was one of many experiments, but at the same time one of much interest. The team started the season with but one letter man and the balance of the team had to be made up of men of unknown ability. Considering this difficulty the season may be said to have been a successful one.

The season opened April 6 on the Varsity diamond with a 5-2 victory over Willamette. On April 17 a second victory was won from Willamette, this time on their own diamond, by a score of 14-2.

The conference season opened with Oregon at Corvallis on April 19 and 20. The first game was a pitched battle between Coleman of O. A. C. and Wilson of Oregon, the latter winning 3-2. The second game was a poor exhibition, in which the final score stood, Oregon 15, O. A. C. 1.

Two games were played on April 26 and 27 at Eugene. Both games were long drawn out affairs, which Oregon won by the scores of 18-8, and 21-7 respectively. Sixty-seven hits, including seven home runs were made in these two games.
The Lemon-Yellow nine made its final appearance on the O. A. C. diamond on May 3 and 4. The Beavers scored their first victory of the season on Friday, winning 13-12. Saturday's game went to Oregon, 12-10.

The last and best games of the series were played in Eugene May 10 and 11. The Friday game was a Beaver victory with Coleman pitching masterful ball and winning 10-1. Oregon won Saturday, 5-4.

The following men made letters in baseball: Baldwin, Krueger, Coleman, Lodell, Hubbard, Rickson, Olsen, Preston, Gurley, and Seibert.

The Players

Baldwin, Captain

J. D. BALDWIN.—Captain and Coach. Center field. "Baldy" was the most dangerous hitter on the Beaver team, and has several home runs to his credit. He was an able leader and will be greatly missed next year.

CARL LODELL.—Captain-elect. Catcher. "Lody." The best man on the team was chosen to pilot the Orange and Black through the 1919 season. "Lody" is a heavy hitter, and a good catcher, and above all, he knows the game.

Lodell, Capt.-elect

RALPH COLEMAN.—Pitcher. "Coley." The only pitcher on the team that could win a conference game. "Coley" always pitched good ball and will be greatly missed next year.

Coleman

C. E. KRUEGER.—Pitcher. "Dutch" worked hard and willingly, deserves a good share of credit.

EDWARD PRESTON.—Left fielder. "Presty." He pulled down many a long drive that was tagged for a two or three bagger. Will be with us for another year.

E. C. OLSEN.—Right fielder. "Oley" is a hard hitter and a bad man for a pitcher to face. Usually managed to get around the diamond.

Krueger

"Cack" Hubbard "Seib" Seiberts "Girlie" Gurley "Curley" Rickson

CLYDE HUBBARD.—Third base. "Cack" was a fast fielder and possessed a "never give up" spirit which is a very valuable asset to any ball player.

EMIL SEIBERT.—Shortstop. "Seib" is a heady player and we expect great things of him during his remaining two years with us.

WAYNE E. GURLEY.—First base. Wayne is a brilliant fielder, and generally made up for the hits he did not get by robbing the other fellow of some.

CARL RICKSON.—Second base. "Curley." He is a steady fielder and during the last few games made the opposing pitcher miserable.

The Freshman Team

WRESTLING

Patchin Jasper Armstrong Buttervich South Coach Hargiss

Wrestling Review

WHEN THE CALL came for wrestlers, Buttervich was the only letter man back to answer the call, but with a large number of Varsity candidates out working for the team, prospects looked good for a winning aggregation. The season opened with the team on its way North to meet the U. of W. grapplers, who, according to the dope had the meet already won. Contrary to all expectations the Varsity came through and won three out of the five bouts. The meet with the University of Oregon was called off by them, owing to the fact that their men were too crowded with school work to be able to devote the necessary time to training.

Two days before the date of the W. S. C. meet a telegram was received to the effect that they would be unable to meet the local grapplers, as scheduled, and thus the season ended with O. A. C. holding another Northwest Championship team, and three of its members Northwest Champions. They are: South, 115 lbs.; Patchin, 135 lbs.; and Captain Buttervich, 148 lbs.

All of this year's team will be back next year and with the new men out there should be some interesting competition in determining the Varsity next season.

BUTTERVICH
Captain and Captain-elect

SOUTH

JASPER

CAPTAIN BUTTERVICH, Northwest Champion, 148 lbs.—"Spud" proved himself too much for his opponents and annexed Northwest Champion to his title. Was re-elected captain for the coming year.

SOUTH, Northwest Champion, 135 lbs.—South is a new man on the squad, and while holding down the featherweight position of the team he proved himself a strong and aggressive grappler. Should be a sure point winner in the next two years of his stay here.

JASPER, 125 lbs.—This is "Jaz's" first year with the Varsity. He is fast and aggressive, and deserves much credit for his work. He is a sophomore this year and great things are expected of him in the future.

PATCHIN

PATCHIN, Northwest Champion, 135 lbs.—"Chub" has an ideal build for a bone crusher and the rest of the stuff that goes to make up one. From the word go he had his opponent on the down hill drag, and easily proved himself "Champ." During the next two years he should be a sure point winner.

ARMSTRONG, 165 lbs.—"Sam" is built like a brick, and has the strength of a bear. This was his first year on the Varsity, but before anyone wins from Sam they will be well aware of the fact that they are doing something.

WOMEN'S ATHLETICS

Swimming Team

Varsity Swimming

SWIMMING has taken first place in the athletic activities of the O. A. C. girls. Evidence of this lies in the splendid work done by the girls' swimming team when it triumphed over the U. of O. mermaids in the second annual swimming meet last spring.

In spite of the handicap of a small tank in which to practice and the opposition of the Multnomah Club veteran swimmer, the local girls were especially awarded for their patient work and faithful training by high scoring in form swimming and diving. The lemon and green representatives were scarcely able to take third place in either of these events.

Much credit is due the entire team for its excellent work but those deserving special mention are Natalie Reichart, Ruth Stewart, and Ruth Peaslee. Miss Reichart, a freshman, was high point winner of the meet, scoring ten points, and made a remarkable showing in speed swimming. Ruth Stewart, captain of the team, was a close second with nine points, most of which were gained in the events for form. Ruth Peaslee took first place in diving.

Miss Laura Campbell, through her efficient coaching, brought out unrealized possibilities in the girls, and they are looking forward to many more victories over Oregon.

Soccer Team

Captain Ball

Varsity Soccer

DUE TO the confusion on the campus during the Hockey season this year, this delightful game was necessarily omitted. Snappy games of previous years have been of great interest and satisfaction, and the teams were disappointed as the season rolled by without this sport.

However, the two games pictured above, Soccer and Captain Ball, were successfully substituted, this being the first time that these games were ever introduced and organized on this campus. Class teams were chosen and each team put up a good battle, with the O. A. C. spirit.

Like Hockey, Tennis is with us this year in memory form only. Three representatives made favorable showing last spring at Eugene. Those participating were Florence Holmes, Adelaide Mahan, and Lois Dorn.

We now look forward to the fall of 1919 as bringing forth teams equal if not superior to our past teams, and believe that even better work can be accomplished, in spite of the disadvantage we have had in 1918.

Field Day Snaps

Girls' Field Day

Varsity Basket Ball

WITH all the last year's Varsity back and 225 to 300 girls out for basketball, the season has proved unusually successful. Although no intercollegiate games have been played ample opportunity for lively rivalry has been afforded in the form of intramural competition.

The contesting teams were divided into the Inter-sorority and Independent, the latter including Waldo, Cauthorn, Downtown Girls, Faculty, Class Teams and the Varsity. An almost complete round robin was played which lasted ten weeks, the initial game taking place February 14. The Independent and Sorority team who made the highest number of baskets per game competed in the semi-finals. Alpha Chi Omega won the Inter-sorority and Waldo Hall, the Independent championship. Waldo later won the championship of the College.

The winner of this game played against the Varsity for the final championship, an event which was followed by a never-to-be-forgotten celebration.

Greek Letter Societies

IN a comparatively short space of time the fraternity question on the O. A. C. campus has assumed a momentous weight. Eighteen National Greek Letter Societies, men's and women's, have made their appearance within a brief space of four years, and as many local organizations are petitioning or contemplate petitioning national societies.

The fraternities have always endeavored to meet those issues which confront organizations of their kind and have put forth every effort to unify their activities. The cementing of Greek ideals with the ultimate object of the advancement of their Alma Mater have been co-ordinate factors in maintaining their activity. Appreciating the responsibilities and obligations which rest with organizations of their nature there has been a constant advocation of progress along those paths which show biggest promise of future success. The democracy so indigenous to our campus has always been maintained with an ever present realization of its true worth.

With the development of peace terms comes the dawn of a new era whose existing conditions will be of a new nature and with it will come new problems that will confront the Greek Letter Societies. Their future welfare will be in proportion to the ability with which they meet these new issues. Their right to existence can be maintained just so long as they give good, sound reasons for their continuance. It is with a full realization of these conditions that the fraternities have made ready to meet the changes necessary. Located in a sphere whose broadest principles are based on fraternalism the Oregon Agricultural College offers excellent opportunity for the Greek Letter Societies to carry on their work.

Waldo Hall Club

During the year of 1907, Mrs. Clara Waldo, who holds the unique position of being the only woman on the Board of Regents, appeared before that body and pled for a dormitory for the college women. The plea was granted, resulting that same year in the erection of the large well-planned building bearing this name in compliment to its benefactress.

Cauthorn Hall Club

Cauthorn Hall has undoubtedly housed more people during its existence than any other building in Corvallis. Founded as a boys' dormitory in 1891 and as such it continued until 1913, when college authorities found it necessary to convert Cauthorn into a girls' dormitory.

The girls residing at Cauthorn constitute the Cauthorn Hall Club which has for its purpose the promotion of efficient cooperation and congenial relationship of its members.

Alpha Zeta, the oldest and largest Agricultural fraternity in the country, was founded in 1897, a little over twenty years ago. Its membership of more than 2700 embraces the major share of the most distinguished leaders and investigators in agriculture in the country. In its 26 chapters are included all the leading institutions of the United States.

Alpha Zeta is a strictly honorary fraternity with chapters granted to institutions of the highest standing. Active membership is granted to those students having the highest qualities of character, leadership, and scholarship in the Junior, Senior and Graduate classes in Agriculture.

Leadership in the furtherance of scientific agriculture is the guiding principal of the fraternity.

The Forum was organized by the Junior and Senior classes in the spring of 1914. It is the only honorary society in which its members are selected from the entire student body. The primary purpose is to recognize efficiency in scholarship among junior and senior students. Election is made to the society by its own members, through the cooperation of a committee selected from the faculty. To become a member is a decided honor for the election is based upon scholarship, student activities and sociability.

C. S. Brewster	Scribe

The Honor Society of Agriculture, Gamma Sigma Delta, is strictly honorary in its character, being on a par with any other honor society such as Sigma Xi and Phi Beta Kappa.

The object of the society is to encourage high standards of scholarship in all branches of agricultural science and educational and a high degree of excellence in agriculture pursuits. Membership is conferred upon those students of the graduating and post-graduating classes in agriculture who have shown exceptional ability and upon alumni and faculty members who have rendered signal services to the cause of agriculture development.

Senior students must be within one semester of graduation and their scholarship record must be such as to place them among the upper one-fourth of the graduating class.

The Student Army Training Corps

AFTER the United States entered the war against the Central Powers, a great wave of patriotism swept over the country. This was true especially of the younger men of the nation. This sort of patriotism was such that prompted men to enlist at once without first considering in what manner they would best serve their country. France and England went through this stage and as a result men who were studying along technical lines enlisted, and many of them were killed. Had they finished their courses and been fully equipped technically they would have served their country to a far greater extent.

The United States profiting by the costly experience of the two great allies early saw the need for restraining the over-eager youth of America. Our government decided that the men of our nation must be put where they would be doing the greatest amount of good toward winning the war. The government, therefore, organized the Student Army Training Corps. The purpose of this organization was to enlist men in the army and at the same time allow them to attend college that they might acquire a technical education. The tremendous demand for officer material later caused the S. A. T. C. to become an officer material depot.

In meeting the need for officers, emergency camps were organized throughout the country wherein men were trained for the responsible positions of leaders. The S. A. T. C. offered such good material that the best of it was taken for this purpose.

The S. A. T. C. enabled the man who was about to enter college or who was already in college to continue in his particular branch of study. Upon entering school he was enlisted in the army as a private. Regular army routine was the order of the day, including his regular academic subjects. Two hours were allowed each evening for the preparation of the next day's lessons. Regular army officers drilled the men and thus they were early disciplined. The student's conduct during drill in personal appearance and manners, aptitude of command and his grades were the important qualities that were noted. When a call came for men to be trained as leaders in an officers' camp the best were selected and sent.

While in many details faults were found, the Student Army Training Corps was a success inasmuch as it served its purpose well. The men came to college from all parts of the state and from various occupations.

WITH THE organizing of the Student Army Training Camp at the Oregon Agricultural College—the United States Government sent there about forty commissioned army officers to train and instruct the men in the Students' Army Training Corps along lines of military science. These officers were all trained men of ability and character, and with their efficient supervision the enthusiasm and interest of the students constantly grew. Under the influence of these splendid men the students of the Student Army Training Corps did not only improve and develop mentally, but physically and morally.

Many of the men were sent to Officers' Training Camps as the result of their training, but unfortunately many of these spirited young men were not permitted to complete the course of officers' training for a commission, having had only a few weeks' training when the armistice was signed by Germany.

There was not a Student Army Corps in the United States accomplishing more than that at the Oregon Agricultural College, and much appreciation is due these officers.

COMPANY E.
LIEUTENANT NORMAN S. GALLISON, Commanding

Company "E" was most generally considered as the best drilled and disciplined company stationed at the College. By their good work they won the honor of escorting the colors at all parades. The large number of upperclassmen in this company contributed largely to its success. They were stationed at Cauthorn Hall.

COMPANY F.
LIEUTENANT ROBERT H. YOUNG, Commanding

COMPANY E.
LIEUTENANT JOHN E. SIMPSON, Assigned

Company "F" was fortunate in being assigned to Waldo barracks more especially as they were permanently quartered there. Commanded by Robert H. Young, a better company of men was hard to find. Admiration of their company commander was manifested in their willingness to support him in any way.

COMPANY F.
LIEUTENANT R. E. LATHROP, Assigned

COMPANY G.
LIEUTENANT R. H. POWELL Commanding

Like Company "F," Company "G" was permanently established in Waldo barracks. Being the only two companies which occupied Waldo during the entire three months, much rivalry and competition was shown throughout the entire period. Honors appeared to be about evenly distributed.

COMPANY H.
LIEUTENANT JOHN C. WORLEY, Commanding

COMPANY G.
LIEUTENANT G. W. MOORE, Assigned

Company "H" was first quartered at Cauthorn Hall, and from there they were moved to the Women's Gymnasium, which was temporarily used as a barracks. Still later they were transferred to Waldo barracks. Thus they received the distinction of trying them all.

WITH the building of an army to fight in Europe came the need for skilled mechanics of all kinds. Blacksmiths, toolmakers, foundrymen, machinists, auto mechanics, and radio operators were among those most needed. The demand for these men was enormous and could not be supplied by men already skilled along mechanical lines. It was of prime importance therefore that the government should train them.

The technical schools and colleges throughout the country offered the best opportunities for this purpose. O. A. C. was early chosen by the government to train men along these lines particularly because of the splendid facilities which the college offers in the way of shops and equipment. During the summer of 1918 some 540 drafted men were sent here to be trained in these various trades. These men stayed at the college for a period of three months during which time they were housed, fed, paid, and officered as privates in the U. S. Army. When the course was finished they were placed in various branches of the army or where they were needed most.

As soon as one detachment left another arrived. With the coming of the Student Army Training Corps in the fall this unit was classified as B Section of the S. A. T. C.

These men made good after leaving the school due to the excellent training received in their line of work partly and also to the military discipline which they obtained in their daily drill and performance of army routine.

COMPANY A.
LIEUTENANT WILLIAM J. BEACH, Commanding

Company "A," the largest of the B Class companies, was located in the Men's Gymnasium until the barracks was completed. They were then quartered on the top floor of this building. Previous to being demobolized the company fund afforded a grand blowout for all concerned.

COMPANY B.
LIEUTENANT THOMAS V. VAN HORN, Commanding

COMPANY A.
LIEUTENANT CARSON P. NILES, Assigned.

Company "B" was made up of men training to be machinists, auto mechanics, foundrymen, blacksmiths, etc. They occupied the middle floor of the barracks, after being moved from their temporary quarters in the Men's Gymnasium.

COMPANY B.
LIEUTENANT LEE S. DAVIS, Assigned.

COMPANY C.
LIEUTENANT HAROLD W. KENNEDY, Commanding

Company "C" was composed almost entirely of Radio operators and Radio electricians. Not having much strenuous work to bother them they were accused of being the liveliest company in the barracks, where they occupied the ground floor.

COMPANY D.
ENSIGN L. B. WHEELER, Commanding

COMPANY C.

LIEUTENANT ARNOLD H. KOEPKE, Assigned.

The need for officers in the U. S. Navy caused the government to organize naval units in the various colleges and universities throughout the country. These men were training for the naval school at Hoboken, N. J., where they were graduated as Ensigns in the engineering branch. The preparatory course was of two years duration, including drill and academic work.

The Military Department

THE LAND GRANT COLLEGES have proved themselves a valuable factor in winning the war for the United States. More especially has this been true of the Military Departments which were required at these institutions by the Congress which established them. Since the time of its introduction the Military Department of Oregon Agricultural College has steadily improved, until under the able direction of Captain T. F. Maginnis, O. A. C. was designated by the Government as a "Distinguished Institution" for the year 1917-1918.

February 1st, 1917, witnessed the establishing of the Reserve Officers' Training Corps at O. A. C., which continued until the advent of the S. A. T. C. in the fall of 1918. During the S. A. T. C. the R. O. T. C. was temporarily abandoned but with the ending of the war normal conditions were again resumed, this time under the direction of Colonel A. C. Sharpe, U. S. Army (retired), who was later succeeded by Colonel Joseph K. Partello, U. S. Army.

Colonel Partello, though still a young man, has had a great deal of military experience. For the last twenty years he has held a commission in the United States Army, steadily advancing, attaining the rank of Colonel only recently.

Colonel Partello has seen much active service, having served three years in the Philippines during the insurrection, two and a half years in Cuba with the army of occupation, and three years in Panama where he was located at the outbreak of the war. At this time he was appointed to the General Staff and was later made Chief of the Staff for the 17th Division located at Camp Beauregard, Louisiana. With the demobilization of the 17th Division he was appointed Commandant and Professor of Military Science and Tactics at the Oregon Agricultural College.

OUR SERVICE
FLAG

Foreword—

IN THIS we give the pictures of our men who have gone forth to serve their country. We have tried to put into some permanent form a short story of their work, and to show the pride that our institution takes in their spirit of service. The difficulties which have beset us in obtaining correct records and portraits of these men have been all too numerous and we hope that you will overlook the many errors and faults which have crept into this section through these difficulties, and take this section in the spirit in which it is offered. With this introduction, we present "Our Service Flag" of the 1920 Beaver.

Dedication

TO THOSE MEN, WHO WENT FORTH, NOT KNOWING WHAT THEY WERE TO MEET, FACING THE ENEMY SQUARELY, GOING DOWN WITH THE CRY OF VICTORY ON THEIR LIPS, MAKING THE SUPREME SACRIFICE WITH ONLY THEIR COUNTRY IN MIND; TO THOSE HEROES WE DEDICATE THIS, THE SERVICE SECTION OF THE NINETEEN HUNDRED AND TWENTY

Faculty at O. A. C.

THE FACULTY of the Oregon Agricultural College rendered earnest and devoted service in helping to win the war. Over sixty members of the College staff were enlisted in direct military work under the direction of the War Department. Scores of others were constructively engaged, either at the institution or off the campus, in civilian activities that were essential to the successful prosecution of the war. Eighty-three thousand dollars were subscribed by the faculty to a single liberty loan, and other loans and war drives were supported in the same generous fashion. Faculty men and faculty women spent long hours outside their College schedule in the exacting routine of committee work, in organizing drives and carrying them successfully over the top.

The food production and food conservation campaigns were largely conducted by College experts cooperating with the Food Administrator. The Benton County Speakers' Bureau was largely dependent upon College talent, not only for speakers but for entertainment features. The Four Minute Men were directed by a College man, and enrolled a large percentage of College speakers. The Red Cross, Y. M. C. A., and United War Work drives, as well as most of the war relief campaigns, enlisted the services of College men and women as leaders, and received the most cordial and generous support. Several members of the faculty, from the President down to department experts, held special authorizations from the Government to do important civilian war work. Some of these functions were as follows: Special lecturer in Food Conservation Campaign representing U. S. Department of Agriculture; District Director, Section B, S. A. T. C.; Resident Director, Section B, S. A. T. C. at the College; Director of Home Economics, under Federal Food Administration for Oregon; Member Editorial Consulting Board of National School Service; Special Collaborator for the Bureau of Education in Community Center Work.

Extract of Letter from Capt. Robert J. Chrisman

Adjutant 2nd Engineers, A. E. F.

" . . . The next A. M. (day before armistice) they shelled the devil out of us with 8 and 10-inch shells. One hit the room next to the one I was in with five other officers and killed five enlisted men. Rather uncomfortable for a while so I ran down an alley to a sort of a public square which has a big church in the center. This was hit several times. Just as I got to the square I heard a crash with no explosion and saw a great big shell tumble and plow its way down the street. It was a "Dud" (didn't explode). This shell came clear through the building and two men were sitting on a bench on the sidewalk eating mess and the shell went right between them but they both escaped. This was one case in thousands where men have luck.

I am already known in this regiment as a "fool for luck" because of my narrow escapes.

Well, the regiment has received citations for the bravery of the men and officers. Am of course unable to tell you what I did but can tell you of my close calls, which sound like a story book, but which may be of interest. During the battle that night I was again a "fool for luck." Had not the slightest idea of getting killed even though at least six men dropped within arm's reach of me. They took all their spite out on me on my clothes, and the Boches didn't even scratch me. In leading my company through a dense forest single file at about two-pace interval, the Boche opened one of the worst barrages I ever saw and we were lucky to get out of it at all. One high explosive exploded right in front of me, knocked me back on the man behind me, killed the second man in back of me and wounded the third. I carried the man a few hundred feet till he died and then had to abandon him.

I have thirteen holes in my trench coat, most of which I think were made by shrapnel. All were near the bottom so that if they had hit me, it would have been about the knees. Then I wore a map and order case which was hung by a strap over my shoulder. A machine gun bullet hit the darn thing and of course the bullet had to hit at an angle and rip across the middle cutting my papers, field message book, maps and case entirely in two pieces. Then last but not least the old "tin helmet" which I have so long cussed now has an indent where a machine gun bullet glanced off.

We were then headed for Germany but the armistice stopped us. We expect to be back in a little while to the old States again."

Faculty Man in Air Battle

From First Lieut. W. J. Chamberlain,
91st Aero Squadron, A. E. F.

——"At 4:30 we went up again with two other ships. Flew further back into Germany than any of our ships had been before and came down under the clouds below 1000 meters and got what we were after amid the most violent anti-aircraft barrage, I have ever seen. We were almost through our work when a piece of shell hit my propellor and I was forced to throttle down to keep the machine from being wrecked. The other two ships had to leave me and there I was 50 miles in enemy territory, a damaged machine unable to climb, a violent crosswind blowing, the Archies hotter than the devil, good prospects for rain and all alone."

"The rain started soon and I had to throttle down more, for rain often splits the propellor. I thought the Archies would stop but they got worse. One burst under my right wing and tore a good square yard out. Then one went through the tail, a third tore my right elevator off, so I was unable to maneuver the ship. All I could do was hold her level and let the wind blow her toward Switzerland. It got dark, my observer lost his map and I lost my way. After what seemed days, I saw trenches and we got a few bursts of machine gun bullets. One went through the radiator, letting the water out and I was forced to let the ship go to the ground. In the semi-darkness, I landed down-hill and turned a flip on our back but neither of us was hurt. * * * We have been recommended for the Distinguished Service Cross now."

——"On Oct.—I was lucky enough to bring down a Boche plane. We just received confirmation (official) today and will get the French War Cross 'Croix de Guerre.'"

"We were over the German lines and had finished our mission and started for home when 13 Boche jumped us. There were three planes in our flight, separated by several hundred yards. Five came after me. When one got in good range, we put a stream of lead through his plane and he went down and burst into flames."

"A balloon observer saw it and sent in confirmation."

Extract from a Letter of Lieutenant L. D. Yates

Company L, Thirty-first Infantry, A. E. F., Siberia

"I found Vladivostok rather strange but after five days of running around, on business and otherwise, came to the conclusion that things were in much better shape than I had expected, or had supposed from first impressions. "There is a mixture of races that makes a perfect Babel. There are uniforms everywhere, of all sorts, enough to surpass the wildest imagination as to cut and color. The American uniform is exceedingly tame in comparison.

"Means of transportation are various. There is a street car system which runs small crowded cars with women conductors and all sorts of passengers from half-naked Mongolians and white-clad Koreans up. The dhroskies are the chief means of getting around. They are tiny with room only for two, with a driver in a great belted coat and fur cap and sometimes one, usually two, ponies driven almost invariably at a gallop. Prices have trebled since the Americans came. Autos are thick though gas is about $2.00 a gallon and scarcely obtainable. One can have one for breaking it out of the crate on the waterfront, anything from an Overland to a Packard. Or—one can walk, miles and miles, on small cobbles for the most part.

"To get something to eat you point to what you want, printed in English, the Chino waiter reads the Russian opposite and then you wait an hour and a half before anyone pays you any more attention. You do get a good dinner though by paying about what it would cost in a cafe in the States. I suspect, however, that it is just as well that one doesn't see where it comes from.

"There is absolute poverty and easy opulence side by side everywhere.

"I left there after five days and am now out with my company on the line of supplies, which is the Trans-Siberian R. R., of course. We are very comfortably established in great brick barracks with double windows and doors and walls two and a half feet thick, a good supply of wood laid in and several cars of coal coming. These barracks were in use formerly as German prisons.

"The Russian way of running a railroad would not suffice in the States. They stop at every station long enough for anyone who cares to, to get off and have tea and a lunch and have a walk up and down the platform. The cars for the most part are tiny and terribly crowded. Most of the first class passenger cars are in European Russia and one is apt in these cars to have a Mongolian stacking his bundles, which are usually many, all over you, or trying to sit in your lap. Americanskies ride free. Trains run anywhere from one to eighteen hours late."

The Eagle

The beasts of the North came swarming down
From their lairs, in an angry flood,
Drenching the homes of the Belgians,
And the Lilies of France with blood.
High up in the mighty Rockies,
Its loftiest crag, his throne,
The great Bald Eagle brooded,
Peaceful and calm, alone;
And o'er his vast dominions, his eaglets swooped in play,
Mounting on wing exultant with never a thought of fray.
But lo! in the midst of his dreaming,
A vision comes from afar,
Bringing the cries of stricken France,
And the loud, rude crash of war.
And blood leaped up at the memory
Of France in the long ago,
As she crossed the sea with her legions
To help 'gainst a mighty foe.
Then clearer and clearer the vision
Of women ravished and slain,
The whimper of famished children,
The stench of a blood-drenched plain.
And then afloat on the angry waves,
The bodies of eaglets slain,
With a rush and a roar of pinions,
He took to the skies again.
His war-cry crashed in the heavens,
Thundering across the seas!
"I come, oh, France, with my legions,
E'en as you came to me."
His war-cry rang in the heavens
To the eaglets roaming far:
"Follow my wings, oh, children,
The Eagle goes forth to war!"
Then the skies grew black o'er the ocean
Where the brood of the Eagle sped
To tear at the throat of the vulture,
Where the fields of France ran red,
And the bread cast forth on the waters
Once in the long ago,
Comes streaming back to the fields of France,
That the Lilies of Peace may blow!

GENERAL HEADQUARTERS
AMERICAN EXPEDITIONARY FORCES
OFFICE CHIEF OF TANK CORPS

4 December, 1918.

From: Chief of Staff, Tank Corps.
To: Major Sereno E. Brett, Tank Corps.
Subject: Distinguished Service Cross.

1. The Commanding General directs me to advise you that the Distinguished Service Cross has been awarded you for extraordinary heroism in action.

2. The ceremony for the presentation of this cross will be arranged later and you will receive due notification of the date and place.

W. R. STANIFORD.
Lieut. Colonel, General Staff.

From First Lieut. C. R. Hazeltine,
601st Engineers:

"Have met quite a number of O. A. C. men over here. Ed Buol received his commission at this school and oddly enough I administered the Oath of Office. In this class, also, were Heine Anderson, Ben Rush, and Leon, "Fat" Bishop, all receiving commissions as Second Lieutenants. Major Sereno Brett has made quite a name for himself. He took me for a ride in one of his tanks one afternoon. Don Mayne is, or was, a Second Lieutenant in his battalion the last I heard. Among others, I have seen 2nd Lieut. Andy Anderson, Sgt. Geo. Howe and Pvt. Geo. Houleston, all of whom were feeling fit."

From First Lieut. H. W. Loof,
U. S. Air Service, France:

"I went to Verdun this morning in a car and brought back my second plane this afternoon. You didn't know that I had two assigned to me and that I am flight commander, did you? I felt about the same thrill I had when I was elected captain of the old base ball team. My two ships are beauties and the finest that ever saw the front. My insignia is a black knight with a long plume, on a charger, prodding the devil in the hinder parts. I have seen so much hell and ruin between Rheims and Verdun that I am sick of the whole business. I want to go home now that the excitement is all over."

Heroism Rewarded by Distinguished Service Cross

My Dear Mr. Hansen:

On the road between Belleau Wood and Bouresches is the grave of a Marine. Its headstone is his rifle stuck into the ground; its epitaph is his helmet with the beloved emblem. They mark the grave of your son, Corporal William Hansen who was killed in action on June 7, 1918. It is my privilege to be able to send you a photograph of this grave.

The Marine Corps does not cease to watch after its members with the coming of death. Your son's grave will be cared for and watched after until such time as his body may be brought home again wrapped in the flag for which he fought.

Belleau Wood and Bouresches mark the resting place of men who proved themselves capable of the greatest heroism and sacrifice and your son, Mr. Hansen, was among the greatest of these. He was promoted to the rank of corporal a week before his death and the Distinguished Service Cross has been awarded to him posthumously. It is a great privilege to address the father of a man who has been true in the highest sense to the traditions of the Corps.

Yours sincerely,

T. G. STERRETT,
Major, U. S. Marines, in Charge of Bureau.

Mr. Benhart Hansen,
1731 Portsmouth Ave.,
Portland, Ore.

"When a Feller Needs a Friend"

Contributed by Hans W. Loof .
First Lieutenant Air Service, A. E. F., France

There's a chap draws funny pictures,
"When a feller needs a friend,"
And you wonder when that line of his
Is ever going to end.
But there's one thing he's not drawn yet,
That would make the bravest quail—
When you straggle from your buddies
And a Hun gets on your tail.

You'll be flying there so nicely
With the others of your flight
And the air is all so peaceful
And there's not a thing in sight,
Then your engine starts to missing
And your bus begins to trail,
And you chance to look behind you—
There's a Fokker on your tail.

You pull your throttle open
And your bus begins to climb,
But he does the same behind you
For you didn't start in time,
Then you hear machine guns rattle
And you turn a little pale,
And you steal a glance behind—
But he still sits on your tail.

Then you do a little side slip
Or you nose her down a bit
Zoom her up and kick your rudder,
Hoping that you won't be hit,
Climb and turn and get behind him,
Pray to God your guns don't fail,
Get all set and look behind you—
Here's two more Huns on your tail!

Where's the rest of your formation?
Need a friend? I'll say you do.
Ugly brutes with big white crosses
Pumping bullets straight at you,
You can hear those pellets whistle,
See the tracer's smokey trail,
Hear the rat-tat-tat behind you
Of that devil on your tail.

How you work that stick and rudder!
All the air seems full of Huns,
Kick her round and let him have it
Squeezing both those Vicker's guns
Talk about your reckless flying?
But it's all of no avail—
Every time you shake one beggar
There's another on your tail.

God knows how you ever did it;
Perhaps you got a Hun or two,
But your little guardian angel
Flew that bus around for you,
Sitting on your undercarriage
As you homeward start to sail,
Breathing free, but one eye open,
Looking backward at your tail.

You don't mind a bunch of Archies
Shooting at you from the ground;
You'd take on a dozen Dutchmen
If you had a pal around,
But a chap feels mighty lonesome,
And he turns a little pale,
When he straggles from his buddies
And a Hun gets on his tail.

Extract of Letter from Captain Ralph Wilcox

Marine Corps, 17th No., 5th Regiment, A. E. F.

" . . . I have been in the A. E. F. forces since March, 1918, and participated in all the engagements of the Marines since then and was fortunate enough never to have been wounded. I was at Beleau Woods, Chateau Thierry, Soissons, St. Michiel, Argonne, Muese sector, and finally crossed the Muese sector on the night of November 10. All of these were offensives so that I have been over the top some five times.

We had a rotten night of it the night before. The Engineers threw platoons across the Muese at about 9 P. M. the night of the 10th in just 13 minutes, this under terrific machine gun fire and heavy artillery from the heights which the Boche occupied on the east bank. The 1st Battalion which I was in was to cross on one bridge and the 2nd on the other. The 2nd Brigade was soon hit by a shell so the 1st found themselves entertaining the Boche by themselves for a while after crossing. I was out on a little job looking for the 2nd but met up with the Boche instead and in the fog and darkness mistook the bank of the river for a shell hole and jumped in. The 2nd finally got over and we chased the Dutchmen until we got word to quit, which was a little late in arriving. We knew nothing about an armistice as we had gone "over the top" on November 1st and had been chasing Dutchmen continuously until the rumor reached us at 11:45 on the 11th.

In several engagements which I have mentioned our casualties in the battalion were 50 and 63%. In the Belleau Woods the evening of January 6th found us with about five officers remaining out of thirty or more we started with.

I have been Battalion Adjutant since about August 1st, and have been awarded the Croix de la Guerre and the D. S. C., besides a few minor recommendations."

Extract from Letter of Sergeant Sidney Dean

Fourth Engineers, A. E. F.

"I left Camp Greene with the 4th Engineers, 4th Division, April 21, and we landed in Bordeaux May 13. Since then it seems I have been all over France except in Paris and until the armistice was signed there was always plenty of excitement. We went into the reserve July 18, started the advance northwest of Chateau Thierry and after a few days rest hit the Germans at the Vesle River, where the Engineers had a nasty job of putting in bridges.

"On the St. Mihiel drive we had only road work and suffered no casualties but were in position to see and do things in the Argonne September 26. My company went over the top with the doughboys, west of Verdun at Dead Man's Hollow and we had some great fun the first day. That was all I got to see of it, as I got a piece of shrapnel through my left leg, after we had gone about eight kilometers, and I had to read in the papers of the rest of the party.

"After spending six weeks in the hospital at Nantes, I joined the regiment near Conflaus just in time to go on the two-hundred-mile hike into Germany with the Army of Occupation.

"While in Germany we were billeted in small towns along the Moselle near Cochern and were kept busy maintaining the main river road.

"I have been down to Coblenz and across the Rhine, seen the majority of the famous castles along the Moselle, and I've come to the conclusion that my castle on the Rhine will be somewhere along the Willamette back in Oregon.

"At present I am attending the A. E. F. University at Beaume Cote d'Or, France, and brushing up on trig, algebra, surveying and mechanical drawing. It's different than attending classes at O. A. C., but I'm in hopes of getting back to "God's country" in time to attend college next fall, and I find I've got to learn how to study all over again. There is very little of army routine about the school and it's quite some place. We are quartered in hospital barracks and classes are held in the best of the new buildings recently built for the purpose. The government has spent an enormous sum for books and equipment and nearly all the courses are as good as at a U. S. college, although things aren't organized as well as they will be for the next three months' term."

OUR MOTTO "THUMBS DOWN"

To The
Student Affairs
Committee:
That much heralded relic of antiquity, for which every student has a soft spot in his head and a brick in his hand,
We FRIGIDLY DEDICATE
THIS SECTION.
Please hand me those, the Student Affairs Committee would be shocked if I came out.

INFLAMMATION for ROOKS

from the

Inflamed Mind of the Editor

WHEN YOU FIRST set your eyes on the above obituary you will know that you are to get off. Beyond that, what you know could be written on a one-cent stamp, and there would still be room for the roll of wise guys in this college, which is considerably large. Your niche in the hall of fame will be about the size of a hole in a punch board. Cock your hat on one ear, light a cigarette, and above all things look important. You will be met at the station by various dignitaries and confidence men from the Phi Delta Theta Hotel, but be careful. Hang on to your suitcase. Don't let Cantrall get his hands on it or you will have to climb the hill to the A. T. O. cliff dwellers to get it back. Don't fall for Heinie Schwarz's green bath-tub. He'll make you buy gas for it and try to pawn a Kappa Sigma pledge button off on you. If you can get by Dadmun and his Sigma Nu advance party, you're lucky. Hail a taxi (in Corvallis anything from a baby carriage to an ex-beer wagon). Drive to the Y. M. C. A. Ask for a job, and then go out and find one. Here you will obtain a complete list of eating houses, including description of sleeping quarters, menus and pledge buttons. Before you choose your feed box size up the Lambda Chis. They are always well supplied with uncured hams. If you are fond of prunes take a look at the Theta Chis' pet assortment. That Ben Nichols is the prize specimen. The S. P. E.'s have the best eggs of the soft boiled variety, while the Gamme Tau Betas maintain a corner on the hard ones. Now that the menu is disposed of let us help you find a place to sleep. If you have the "back to the farm" instinct pack a lunch and hike out to the Beavers' suburban home. Stay away from the Sigma Nu House. They have a variety of itch that not even "Spud" Glennon's line can exterminate. You may wish to register in the institution. Don't ask students for information. They can't give you any. No one expects you to register until six weeks after the date scheduled. Get a general education. If you register in a degree course you will want to change next semester. Ask "Wamp" Watterman, He's going to quit next year unless new courses are started in the school.

INFLAMMATION for ROOKS—Continued

Don't worry about registration fees. Pass a worthless check and you will become intimately acquainted with the faculty and moneyed men of Corvallis. Now that you have registered don't let anyone talk you into buying a green cap or a rook bible. Be independent. Demand free speech and choice of headgear and the Sophomores will see that you get what is coming to you. Don't be in a hurry to pledge to a fraternity. It's never too late to be a Kappa Theta Rho or Omega Upsilon. Brick Hyde got by at the first place. If you have dates at the S. A. E. house get an antidote for chloroform and sew up all the button holes on your coat lapels. Don't be disappointed if the Sigma Chis don't pledge you. It takes you five votes to get you in, and besides Brother Agosti lost all the pins on the front lawn. Any green-looking rook that isn't wearing a tin placard might be an Alpha Tau pledge. They ran out of pledge pins. Take a course in Fussology. It is a required course before graduating. If you are game you must look up the Tri Delta poultry farm near Philomath. They have a wonderful collection of birds guaranteed to be young and unsophisticated. If you want to get acquainted with a big circle of rockesses, queen the Alpha Chi Omegas. If you want to spend a nice evening drop in on the Gamma Phis. The girls are so elderly and intellectual and their singing so uplifting. The Thetas have the Class! (If you don't believe it ask them.) If you don't like sororities and want to get a start try the Sigma Kappas. But, be careful of those wild Pi Phis across the street. They'll vamp you and you will be one of the ordinary lounge lizards like Beatie, Agosti and Chadbourne. Wear leather leggings and your batting average will be increased one hundred per cent at the Chi Omega House. You may seek other forms of amusement. Those men with religious tendencies will experience no difficulty. Be an S. P. E. and join the Y. M. C. A. One dollar admits a man to all social functions and activities for one year. This includes poker games, roulette, faro and pool. They are in good with the authorities and haven't been raided in three years. You may wish to join an honor society. A Sigma Tau or Alpha Kappa Psi pin is a nice thing to have, but if you want to be a great man like Woodrow Wilson join T. N. E. or the D. T. Klan. Every girl's highest ambition is to be a "Skeeter," and they are pretty lucky if they never attain that goal. You are expected to attend classes occasionally; studies have not, as yet, been entirely eliminated from college life. Go in for athletics. If you can't qualify for football enter the pre-drill contests in front of the Co-op. Be a pride to your fraternity, especially if it is Theta Chi. Almost anyone would be a pride to it.

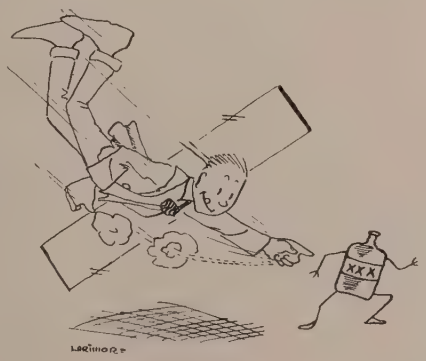
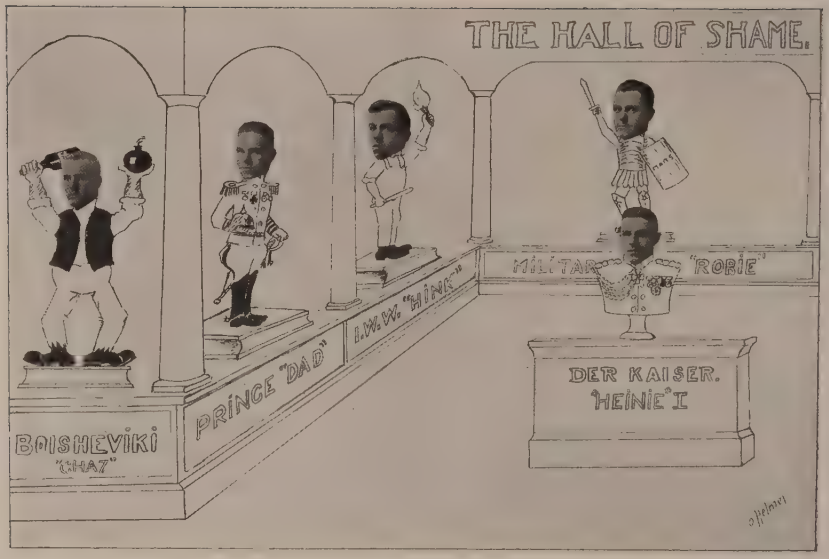
Some people should never go to college. Those like "Hink" Haberer and "Chazz" Beatie should be carrying the red flag of the Bolsheviki, while those with promoters' ability of "Spud" Glennon, Oz Walker and "Swede" Rahn should be running jitney dances. Others like Hod Mason would look better on a marble pedestal. Girls such as Edith Bailiff, Thelma Dykes and Irene Brye should be political leaders, while Jeanette Patterson, Grace Crandall and Georgene Hutchins should be in the "Follies." Some people require college training. Allen McComb might learn something in three or four more years. Now a Freshman is always a Freshman unless he is a Phi Delt pledge, then he is a victim. But in a few weeks you will become accustomed to the College long before the College returns the compliment. Don't neglect your social standing, but don't try to be a social lion. Oz Walker tried it and couldn't get away with it. If you fuss women from the halls always send up enough rope to reach from her window to the ground. They don't care to get in at nine-thirty on Sunday night. Stay away from bootleggers and California men. Their morals are bad. If you are going to stage a party be sure and invite Dean Peavey or you will get in bad. Smoking dulls the brain, so if you can't afford to take the edge off yours, don't smoke. The S. P. E's must be commended for their foresight in recognizing these faults.

One small cubeb would start a riot and register the chapter at another state institution at Salem. Don't join the band. Join the R. O. T. C. and get a free uniform. Have your picture taken and send it to mother. She'll hang out a service flag and that's nothing to be ashamed of. The Gamma Phi's have one for two of their former bus boys that joined the S. A. T. C. Now we would like to tell you all we know about "Dimmy" Mather, but he censors this stuff and it wouldn't get by. Don't ask questions because no one can answer them. If there is anything in the world that you want to know and can't find it in an encyclopedia ask Florence Holmes or "Mickey" Shea; they know everything.



With these parting words of advice we bid you drive on.



Chapter of Lambda Chi Alpha Fraternity

(APPLICATION BLANK)

I ....., do hereby apply for admixture into the Lambda Chi Alpha Fraternity. I am politically inclined and have no particular features or qualities which attract women. If pledged I promise to devote three-fourths (¾) of my time toward becoming popular and the other one-fourth (¼) toward obtaining new chapters for the Lambda Chi Alpha Fraternity. (State on reverse side of this card complete list of activities and financial condition. Mail this card to the chapter at Corvallis and any other information which might aid in passing on your merits.)

Greek Boarding Houses

FOR THE BENEFIT of those who are yet to be enlightened, as to the nature of our college boarding houses, which exist under dago names, we might say that they are composed of a group of people (male and female) who, not being able to live with anybody else, decided to band together and take it out on each other. They usually wear some sort of insignia, which in most cases, looks like an advertisement for a cafeteria. They have secret signs and grips, which remain secrets until some of them get drunk. (This applies to men only.) They pride themselves on their individuality and it is right that they should, for not even Salem could hold their equal. In the following we will endeavor to portray the exact nature of these coffee houses, for the benefit of those who have yet to live and learn.

T. N. E. Chapter Hall

Rushing Scene at Sig Alphs

WHAT HO! Brother Spitzbart breezes in with a victim. The noble brothers rush in from the attic and basement and extend the glad hand. The boys fall back and "Bill Hart" Grafton, the iron man, walks slowly up. A few lusty songs about the violets of Sigma Alpha Epsilon are sung. Our S. A. T. C. hero, Spriggs, plays the piano while George Powell and "Butts" Reardon conduct him over to the fireplace. Here he listens to the escapades of the boy wonder, Mushrush. Before he can recover the lights are turned out and Brother Mason stands majestically and inspiringly before the fireplace while "rook" Foote paralyzes the unfortunate prospect with the strains of the steel guitar. While in this condition the unfortunate victim is rushed upstairs from which he never fails to appear without the S. A. E. signboard clapped to his coat lapel.

Kappa Sigma

No! This isn't a Fatima Cigarette advertisement, it is the Star Crescent which the Kappa Sigs hold in such high esteem. It signifies that a chapter of Kappa Sigma can be found wherever Fatima Cigarettes are sold. The star was put in for no other reason than that they had to have something to rhyme with bar in one of their fraternity songs, while the crossed keys on the left are the keys to Walker, Rahn and Altstadt's brewery in the basement. The skull and cross-bones are an exact reproduction of "Lu" Newcomer having a good time in a sorority house, while the crossed swords on the right suggest the German military manner in which Schwarz and Seibert try to run the house. We don't blame the Thetas for trying to run this bunch out of their back-yard with water bags and hose (garden).

Theta Chi

No, this isn't an auction house banner or a bargain counter placard, it is merely a Greek coffee house sign. You see Theta Chi is a real national fraternity but no one knows it, so it is only natural that the boys should advertise. They are centrally located between the city jail and fireman's hall and can be found at either place at any time. Ben Nichols, the admiral of the Rocky Mountain Sailors, lives here. Under his unlifting influence, the house is run in a strictly naval manner. Brother Fudge keeps the house register of all the town women and a schedule of the firemen's dances. Outside of that the boys are harmless and don't cause much trouble.

Peeps from Sigma Nu Sanctum Sanctorium

AFTER A HALF-HOUR search Brother Henderson rescues the ritual from the cook. The still is brought up from the basement and the snake pulled down from the chandelier. Meeting called to order by Brother Dadmun. Brother Boch (custodian of the still) passes sacred liquid. Moved and seconded that "Rook" Morrill be tubbed. Motion carried but vetoed by Brother Dadmun. Moved and seconded to tub Hodler. Motion carried and additional penalty of cancelling week-end dates imposed by Dadmun. Moved and seconded that "House Beautiful" committees be appointed with instructions to bale water out of basement and plug up the cracks in house. Brother Stewart appointed chairman of committee to clear empty bottles from basement. Motion that all "rooks" take sheep dip bath thrice daily to exterminate itch. Motion carried. Motion by Brother Glennon that meeting adjourn to Albany for a dance. Motion carried by unanimous vote. Adjournment.

Lambda Chi Alpha

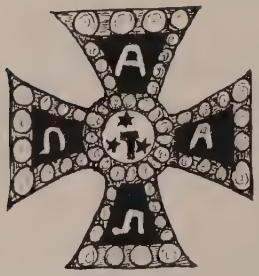
Situated directly behind the Y. M. C. A. is a large blue-gray barn structure, literally jammed full of would-be specimens of the fraternity world. It runs under the Greek name of Lambda Chi Alpha, and was founded by six bootleggers beyond the three-mile limit and transported to this college when it got too strong to stay on the seas. Bill Teutsch is one of the outstanding features of their fraternal program and Joe Hackett, the demon tin soldier, was annexed to this joint out of mere sympathy for the human race. "Cap." Mentzer heads this organization and that is the only thing we hold against them. Politically they have W. J. Bryan beat when it comes to "coming back."

Phi Delta Theta

We had to put this in because it is the most prolific thing on the campus. It isn't a Chinese lottery ticket. It's a Phi Delta Theta pledge pin. The blue background represents the way the old men feel when they realize how the house has degraded. There's Ricketts who brought dishonor to the clan by promoting rough-neck dances. Carl Lodell is one of the remaining six hundred athletes. "Sketts" Reynolds is another. He plays basketball brilliantly. Lloyd Carter and Don Morris are the model boys and the Chapter may justly feel proud of them. This gang is so slow they haven't as yet heard of the signing of the armistice and are still wearing uniforms to social functions. If you want to spend a nice, quiet evening, call on the boys any time except on week-end night. On these nights they can always be found entertaining the Chi Omegas with indoor sports.

Sigma Chis Hold a Meeting

BROTHER AGOSTI on the throne opens the meeting with a short talk on "Girls Who Have Fallen for Me." Brothers Taylor and Amis reprimanded for showing disinterest. Brother Chadbourne reprimanded for coming in late, but upon explaining that he had been detained at the Pi Phi house is excused by Brother Agosti. Report by Brother Schiewe, chairman of popularity committee, with schedule of sorority dates for each member with itemized report of each member's batting average. Brother Agosti instructs all brothers from California to bring suitcases in for inspection. Opposition by Brothers Watterman and Butterworth. Meeting adjourned by appropriate hymn with brothers in chorus. "Thank God I'm a Sigma Chi."



Alpha Tau Omega

We hadn't contemplated writing about Alpha Tau Omega, for they are so harmless we need have no fear. The three stars stand for their three shining lights, "Chuck" Webber, Otto Cantrall, and "Hinky Dink" Haberer. The stars are used to represent the three class presidents, but Hink decided to quit about the time McAdoo did. The some twenty odd jewels in the cross represent the rest of the cabellment. These boys always wear dress suits because it's the only opportunity an A. T. O. has to wear one. "Ichabod" Radcliff, our aesthetic athlete, boards here.

Our Sigma Phi Eps

DEAR MAMA: I thought I would write to you and tell you about the good society I belong to. I slept over here one night and found a pledge pin on my pajamas in the morning, so I guess I belong here. I know this is a good society because "Scoop" McComb told me so (and he is editor of the semi-weekly blow-out), and knows all about the dope (at least he thinks he does). We are not rough like the other fraternity boys, and don't smoke or chew in the house, but just the same we're a regular Greek letter society. Dr. Dubach is one of our brothers, and that helps us out a great deal. Mr. Robinson is one of our big men; he didn't go out for basket-ball this year because he would rather be Colonel of Cadets.

And It Came to Pass That —

THE WORLD had been turned upside down in its course, the Bolsheviki was running rampagent in Europe and its influence had spread to our fair western shore. Yes even to the unheard of town of Corvallis, where the trains only stop when the milk has to be delivered or some student must get off. It was indeed sad that such things had "CAME TO PASS". Waldo and Cauthorn had metamorphized from a SHE shack to a HE shack and "Home wasn't home no more." The odors of Camels and Fatimas had disappeared from the fraternal hearths and in their place came the scents of "Dijere Kiss" and other female accessories. Then in our midst like a bomb from a clear sky came the T. N. E. exposure, to think that the vintage of the grape had found its way into our very midst and the faculty didn't even get a smell of it, you can't blame them for breaking it up. Then the Mysterious Ball was promoted but the Gods were against the men and it fell thru. And now comes a rumor, just a faint, far off rumor that the women are going to run things. MEN, let us rally to our rights, let us pray for mercy, for when a skirt rack starts to buy stock, heavy artillery, gas masks and all are useless.

Let us pass through a period of dark days and view the future in its true light. Behold! what is this, can it be true? The student affairs are run by the STUDENTS, and from the neighboring frat house comes the sound of voices and the shuffle of feet; yes, it is true they may now dance until twelve o'clock. No more are the scholars bothered with flunks or eight o'clock classes; they are both relics of an antique age. Formal affairs are common things and even the S. A. T. C. lieutenants are willing to cast aside their uniforms and mingle with the common herd. "OH, PLEASE LET ME KEEP ON DREAMING, DON'T WAKE ME UP."—Who is this individual staggering down the road? Ye Gods! it's an S. P. E. Robinson, could you but see your brother you would blush and hide your face. Only one vistage of the old times do we find, just one scene of the old days. "Chazz" Beatie is lined up at the bar and taking his usual evening cap. Behold! there is Boch and he has tears in his eyes. Some one has told him the nation is going dry. Fear not, Freddie, no such thing will ever occur while "Hinky Dink" is president. Who is that haughty individual? Can't you guess? Why it's "Bill" Teutsch; he has done well; he has advanced from a size six hat to an eight, which is quite an increase, but you know they will swell. To our ears comes a loud sonorous voice like the bray of an ass; can't you recognize it. Why, that's "Spud" Glennon selling piano polish and other household necessities. He has a commerce degree. There is George Powell and Leo Spitzbart running a magazine, telling all about the glories of S. A. E. It's no use to go any farther for they are the bunch. What is that sombre-looking house all draped in black? 'Tis the Lambda Chi Alpha shack that bemoans the loss of their political power. It is indeed a strange world. The balmy spring air still has its influence for Kincaid and Beatie have lost their jeweled chest protectors to two of our fair and promising co-eds. Quick, Watson, THE NEEDLE, OR MY DREAM WILL END—TOO LATE—I AM AGAIN BACK IN THE OLD TIME WHERE GOSSIP AND SCANDAL RUN WILD. 'TIS HELL, BUT IT'S O.A.C.

Yes, this is a Theta window. You don't believe it? Well! Maybe you don't. Nevertheless it's the truth. You're surprised that these much-heralded sistern of propriety, those idols of convention should participate in such frivolities. We took this picture and ought to know.

TOO LATE to CLASSIFY

This is a goof. We can't label him because there are too many eligibles and someone would feel slighted. He belongs to a fraternity. He got in on a dark night when nobody was looking. The brothers wish he would get out the same way. He never brings a man to the house during open season for pledges and never hands them a line when someone else brings them around. He's always the last man back in the fall when the house is to be cleaned up. When there is wood to be put in or work to do before a dance he always has a full day. He always drags the biggest tramp on the campus to the house dances. When there are guests for dinner he is sure to pass his plate down for the last piece of meat. He is always borrowing money and never pays it back. He is worthless. He is a goof.

Bushwah!

We've often wondered if Jack Grafton thinks he is getting by with this cave man stuff. We know he isn't. What's in a name? Ask Jack.

Just to show what our idea of a prime one is, we present Joe Hackett. He'll never get wise. He thinks this is flattery.

But in order that the above mentioned satire doesn't feel lonesome we might mention Don Jenkins, "Red" Carlson and Mushrush as affiliates.

Stan Myers returned just in time to qualify for this damphool column. This place may be slow, but what is he doing to burn things up?

As we rush madly to press the women beg us to ball Bill Teutsch out for holding their hands while he talks to them. Can you imagine a man as soft as that getting up before a meal and saying "God help me to be a good Lambda Chi Alpha! We wouldn't.

Al Agosti still maintains that several Thetas were so wild about him he had to turn them down. How fortunate there are not more of us who have to carry a pocketful of rocks to keep the women away.

WANT AD: Somebody to tell me why? (After spending $108.00 for a diamond pin and advertising it at all the Sororities) I can't plant it. What in Hell is wrong with me? Signed—"Hink" Haberer.

In Conclusion

I wanted the dope and I sought it,
  I worked and I lied like a slave,
Was it scandal or gossip, I got it,
  I threw many a rep in the grave.

I wanted the dope and I got it,
  Came out with a book full this spring,
Yet, somehow, there's some who escaped it,
  But most of them felt my sting.

My time on this world has diminished,
  I'm sick of the taste of the weed,
The editor has begged me to finish,
  And they've crabbed me for lack of speed.

I've worked by the dim candle light,
  'Till I've heard the old clock strike four,
This job is no cinch, by a damn sight——
  So to hell with those who get sore.

Schools of Dentistry and Pharmacy

Portland Oregon

THE ANNUAL SESSION BEGINS OCTOBER 1—Students are required to enter at the beginning of the session.

REQUIREMENTS FOR ADMISSION—Graduation from an accredited high school or academy or an equivalent education, fifteen units, thirty credits. No conditions on the foregoing entrance requirements are allowed.

COURSE OF INSTRUCTION—The course in Dentistry is four years. The course in Pharmacy is three years. The length of the annual session is eight months.

RECOMMENDATIONS FOR PROSPECTIVE STUDENTS—Prospective students, preparing to enter North Pacific College, should include in their academic studies physics, chemistry and biology. The pre-medical course given by many of the colleges and universities is recommended. In the near future requirements for admission will be advanced to one year of college training beyond the high school course.

NO ICE WATER flows in our veins. We are not cold blooded just because we happen to do a big business. We took a little tip from Shakespere, who said—"To thine own self be true, and it must follow, as the night the day, thou canst not be false to any man."

We are true to you and true to ourselves. We have developed service to the highest point of efficiency. The customer must be satisfied, no matter how far out of our way we have to go to accomplish it. We find this is not only good business, but that it actually gives us pleasure, makes us feel like throwing back our shoulders, look the whole world squarely in the eye, and do our level best.

You have helped make us grow. Place implicit faith in us and you can't make a mistake.

Students' wants are ALWAYS carefully taken care of—the values we give are the BEST to be had.

Know Ye All by These Presents:

I, "Hinky Dink" Haberer, party of the first part, do hereby agree with "HEINE" SCHWARZ, party of the second part, should plant his pin within two months from date, as he solemnly and without bravado wagers to do, the party of the first part will plant his pin within 24 hours from the time that the party of the second part does the deed, and failure to do so will result in the party of the first part securing a "dummy," planting his pin thereon and marching up and down Second Street, accompanied by a band.

Prominent Man Is Successful in Planting His Pin

Know Ye All by These Presents:

I, "HEINE" SCHWARZ, being well versed in the ways of women, having secured my early education in the precincts of the Sultan's Realm, and being recognized as king of the "He" Vamps, do hereby proclaim to the world that I have successfully planted my pin and offer as proof the photograph which testifies to my embarkation on the nuptial sea of matrimony. Oh! how well one can succeed with the use of a car, moonlight nights and sweet whispered phrases of mere nothings. To the whole world do I announce my success

The Beaver

The 1920 BEAVER speaks for itself. From cover to cover it is the embodiment of the ideals of a great college. In it the many activities of the Oregon Agricultural College find expression in such pleasing and attractive ways that all the reader's expectations are gratified.

To bring together such an Annual as this one is an accomplishment which deserves praise on every hand. Irving Mather, Editor, and Emil Seibert, Manager, and their able staff of assistants, are the ones whose untiring efforts and splendid ideas have made the 1920 BEAVER such a praiseworthy book.

This statement coming from us is significant, because we have had the pleasure and the good fortune of working with these men. Our efforts and theirs have had a common meeting ground in the production of this Annual. They gave ideas, copy and plates; we gave personal supervision and mechanical equipment. Our men and our machines—type-casting, printing presses and book binding—gave every possible co-operation.

What Mather and Seibert conceived we executed, and we are pleased to have had the opportunity of assisting them in the production of such an important work.

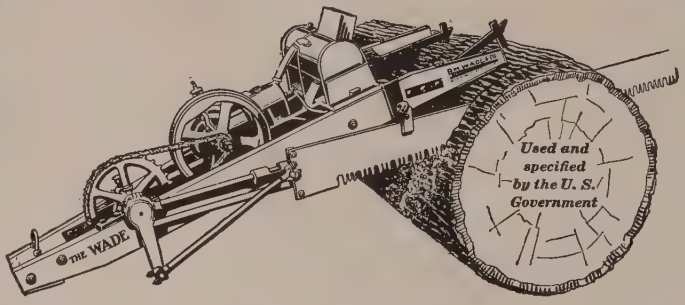
The Wade Drag Saw Outsaws Ten Men



One man with a Wade can saw as much as 10 men with cross-cuts. One man can move it from cut to cut. Owners say it will cut logs from six inches to eight feet in diameter at the rate of one foot a minute. Dan Ross cut 40 cords of wood in one day. It will work equally well in many logging camps.

How to get the most out of a FORDSON TRACTOR

When you hire a man, the amount of work he does largely depends upon how well you plan his work.

Leave him alone and he probably will do considerable loafing.

The same thing is true of a tractor.

The farmers who are making the biggest profits on these tractors, are the farmers who keep them busy the largest percentage of the time.

By intelligent planning you can keep your tractor busy every working day of the year—sawing wood and baling hay in the winter time, field work in the spring, mowing and reaping in the summer, plowing and silo filling in the fall, grinding feed and pumping water all the year round—helping out the neighbors both in field work and in belt work.

Don't overlook the possibilities of using the belt pulley.

Remember that the tractor was evolved from the old fashioned, steam traction engine, the main purpose of which was to provide belt power.

Keep your tractor's belt pulley busy when it is not working in the field. The Fordson is a willing worker, a tireless worker and the most profitable worker you ever had—if you plan its work properly.

We will help you plan the work

2-16x32 Indiana Silos, Oak Ridge Stock Farm Buell, Ore.

EVENTUALLY you'll build silos for your livestock. No matter whether you handle dairy cows, beef cattle or sheep, your feeding costs are too heavy and your loss of animals too great when depending wholly upon range or hay and grain. You can reduce feeding costs to a minimum, raise more stock on the same acreage and always "top the market" if you feed your stock from an

INDIANA SILO

"DEPENDABILITY"— that's the BIG feature of the Indiana Silo. It NEVER disappoints. It will give you a ton of rich, succulent silage for every ton of silage crops placed within its walls. ITS EFFICIENCY HAS BEEN ESTABLISHED BY OVER 70,000 SUCCESSFUL SILOS. Other makes MAY be as good — but you KNOW what the "Indiana" will do. Its merits have been proven by test.

Write for our big silo feed book; also our catalog of MONEY-MAKER silage cutters, the SAFE silo filler. Both books are FREE.
